Dorchester's own radio station on its way

Trevor Bevins

Reporter | trevorbevins@gmail.com

DORCHESTER is to get its own FM and online community radio station.

It is expected to be broadcasting in the first half of next year from an office at the Little Keep off Bridport Road – with an internet service likely to be available in February.

The licence regulator OFCOM has given permission to broadcast to Ridgeway Community Radio and congratulated the group on its successful application.

Andy Worth of Ridgeway Community Radio said: "It's really exciting that we will add to the radio scene in Dorchester. Part of our job will be to go into the community to cover concerts and civic events and suchlike, so folk who can't get out can join in. We will cover health, mental care, and other issues that concern all of us at some time. Music of all types will play its part, as will home grown radio drama.

"Anyone who would like to be a part of this wonderful opportunity to grow our community should get in touch soon so we can plan ahead. Our Little Keep office and studios are wheelchair friendly at ground level and you don't have to be a presenter, there are plenty of other things to do. We are looking for financial support in the form of sponsorship and donations and if anyone can help it will be most welcome."

Mr Worth and the team behind the application are largely drawn from the Ridgeway hospital radio group and between them have decades of experience. He can be contacted on 07787 123927.

The new service is not expected to rival commercial broadcasters, Wessex FM, or the BBC's part-time opt-out of Southampton-based BBC Radio Solent.

Funding for the project, which will be aimed at the over 50s, will come from the community and fund-raising events will be needed to get the station on the air and to keep its volunteer team running.

The project has the backing of Dorchester Town Council, and the Arts Development Company, which is also based at the Little Keep.

Mike Hoskin, CEO of the The Arts Development Company said: "We are delighted to be part of the launch of this exciting new service for Dorchester. Our role is to bring organisations together for the good of the community, and we're looking forward to launching our own arts programme on the station in the New Year."

In the Ofcom statement awarding the licence it says: "The applicant group has its roots in a local hospital radio station, and members have considerable relevant experience, for example in radio broadcasting and engineering, journalism, fundraising and training volunteers. It has studio equipment in place, as well as some secured pre-launch funding.

Ofcom considered that the applicant had demonstrated its ability to maintain the service. Group members have experience of delivering a radio service to people aged over-50, catering to their tastes and interests, and broadening radio choice in the area. Ofcom considered that the applicant had good experience of community engagement, and has many links and partnerships in place which will help it deliver social gain to its target community".

Ridgeway Community Radio is a not for profit Community Interest Company run by volunteers.

■ A Dorset wildlife photographer will be talking about and showing images of hedgehogs at a meeting in Dorchester next week.

Colin Vardell's talk, in aid of hedgehog conservation, does not shy away from the negative impact of modern life and a few images are distressing, but his talk includes advice on what people can do to help this much-loved garden visitor.

'The Hedgehog Predicament' is on Wednesday, November 29th, 7pm at the Dorford Centre, Top o' Town, Dorchester. The audience will also be given an update on the Dorset Mammal Group's countywide initiative to create hedgehog friendly communities. The DMG's hedgehog project leader, Susy Vardell, has created a growing network of towns and villages throughout Dorset committed to offsetting the rapid decline of hedgehogs. By working collaboratively and taking relatively simple measures such as leaving spaces under gates for hedgehogs to circulate, and providing water, local communities can make a real difference as to whether 'their' hogs survive. Dorchester is part of the network and the evening will round off with Linda Poulsen giving a brief update on Hedgehog Friendly Dorchester and some of the issues confronting our local hogs.

HMRC scammers in Dorset

DORSET Police have been made aware of a scam whereby individuals are being contacted, in a variety of methods, and told they owe an outstanding debt to HMRC and asked to pay that amount in iTunes vouchers.

In one day, 13 reports were made to Dorset Police from residents, primarily in the north and east of the county.

Detective Inspector Neil Wright, Force Volume Crime Unit, said: "I urge residents to be aware of this trend affecting Dorset. Tell your loved ones, your neighbours and your colleagues.

"This is a scam. HMRC will never ask you for iTunes vouchers or anything else similar as payment for unpaid tax.

Archaeological digging begins in Dorchester's Fairfield car park

THE Dorchester retail proposals for the town centre are underway, with the masterplan being drafted. West Dorset District Council says that each element of the masterplan is being carefully considered and appraised.

A council spokesperson said: "We value and respect Dorchester's history and heritage. While looking to the future, we would also seek to protect Dorchester's history."

"Following discussions with archaeology experts, West Dorset District Council has commissioned some excavation work on the Fairfield Car park site. This will further explore any archaeological interest that may exist there. The excavations, carried out by archaeological firm 'Context One' will involve carrying out excavations to sample the site."

The trenches are located at four sites in the car park. These sites have been chosen with the advice of the county archaeologist to complement the previous seven sites dug in 2009. The dig has been arranged in order to minimise the impact on parking and Dorchester market.

A mechanical excavator will dig below the surface, and any layer of archaeology underneath will then be hand dug. Any archaeological interest will then be recorded and potentially taken for review. The results of this will inform future work on the site.

Barriers were put in place this week at the sites, across Fairfield long stay car park, with the excavation works beginning on Tuesday. The council expects the work, including re-surfacing the trenches, to take up to three working days per site, over the course of about three weeks.

■ THE volunteers get busy with the purple bulbs. Inset, purple crocuses in bloom

A field of purple for Damers School

ROTARY members have planted purple crocus corms around the grounds at the new Damers First School in Dorchester.

Poundbury Rotary Club decided to play its part in Rotary's international campaign to eradicate polio by obtaining 5,000 crocus corms, and planting them to celebrate the global campaign.

The school has been developing outside areas for the children to enjoy, and the purple crocus fields will add a great deal of colour in 2018.

Poundbury Rotary Club members, supported by members from the Casterbridge Rotary and even one from Basingstoke Rotary were joined by parents, children and teachers from the school.

The school organiser, Edd Moore, who is also a Poundbury Rotarian, organised the morning's efforts, completed in just an hour and a half. Catherine Smith, the head teacher, organised coffee, tea, and biscuits for the planters.

For more than 30 years, Rotary and its members have been committed to fighting to eradicate polio across the world. In that time the number of polio-endemic countries has dropped from 125 to just three, with over 2.5 billion children receiving vaccinations.

With eradication now closer than ever, Rotary International in Great Britain and Ireland's latest campaign, Purple4Polio, is designed to unite communities to engage in activities as part of the final push to eradicate polio for good.

Early in the next year another team from Rotary will be setting out for India to immunise 173 million children under five years of age. Together with Rotary members from around the world, groups in India, working with the Government of India will set about the task, usually to be completed in a day. Each child who is vaccinated gets a purple stamp put on their finger similar to the shape of a purple crocus.

■ DAMERS First School will be officially opened on Monday by Prince Charles during a visit to his Duchy estate.

He will be shown the school's sustainability programme during a tour of the building as well as meeting pupils, parents and staff.

The school, the first on Poundbury, opened at Easter with the old site in Damers Road now owned by the neighbouring County Hospital.

The Prince's visit will also include dropping in on older people at the retirement complex named after his grandmother, Bowes Lyon Court, and a tour of the hi-tech firm, Loop Technology.

500 new homes at Crossway get the green light from councillors

Trevor Bevins

Reporter | trevorbevins@gmail.com

PLANS for up to 500 new homes at Crossways have been unanimously agreed by West Dorset councillors.

Developer C&G Properties has been given initial permission for 99 homes, a doctors' surgery and village hall, along with outline permission for 401 further homes.

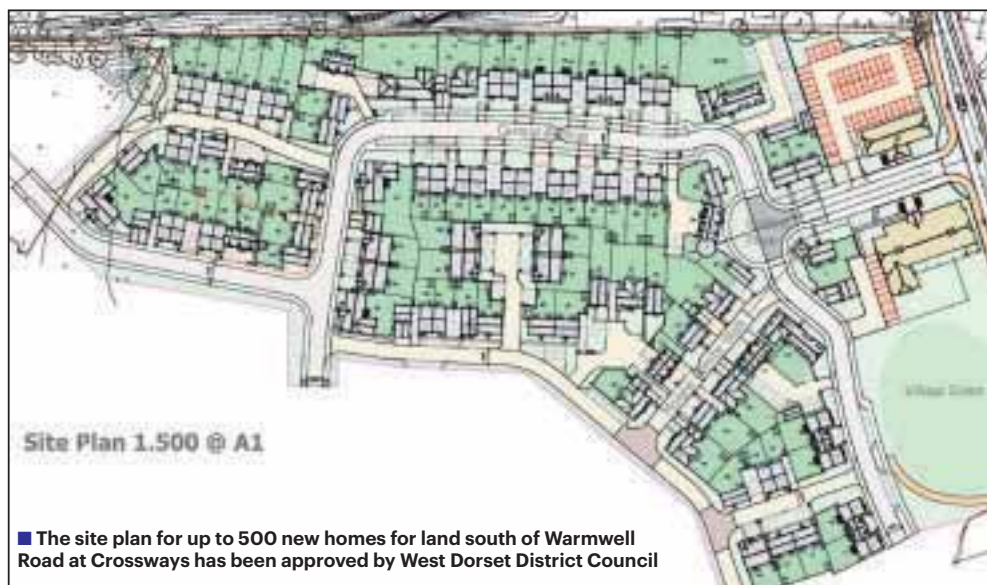

There have been fears that the village will not cope with the extra homes and will need to expand the village school and the middle school at Puddletown.

Once completed the development could bring an extra 1,200 people to Crossways, a former RAF wartime airfield, where housing schemes were started in the 1970s to meet growing demand in the Dorchester and Weymouth area.

West Dorset District Council approved the plans for south of Warmwell Road on the condition that developers made an "education contribution of £2,722,212" as well as contributions towards road improvements.

The education contribution will be used by Frome Valley First School in the village and St Mary's at Puddletown.

More than a third of the new homes have been designated as

■ The site plan for up to 500 new homes for land south of Warmwell Road at Crossways has been approved by West Dorset District Council

"affordable housing".

Planning chairman Cllr Ian Gardner said: "We're pleased that we've been able to approve another large development specified in our local plan."

"Once completed, this site will provide much-needed open market and affordable housing, as well as community facilities such as a new village hall and doctors' surgery."

Included in the scheme, on farmland, will be two pumping stations and large areas of managed open space and 2.5 hectares for 'employment use'.

The scheme covers a total area of 44 hectares and will see homes built to the east of the Hybris

Business Park and south of Summer Farm.

An expected 131,000 tonnes of sand and gravel will be excavated from the site during building work.

Sport England objected to the plan, claiming there are insufficient sports facilities on the site.

Doctors come back to their roots

■ Dr Anna Hope
and Dr Jessica
Davey, with Dr
Adeel Ghaffar

DORSET County Hospital has recruited two doctors who have returned to their home county after studying medicine.

Dr Anna Hope and Dr Jessica Davey have joined the hospital as part of the annual intake of foundation doctors, to complete two years of training following their graduation from medical school. The foundation doctors complete ongoing assessment during their time at the hospital, as well as completing an e-portfolio and an assessment at the end of each year.

At any one time the hospital has 55 foundation doctors; 30 foundation year one and 25 year two, who rotate through a range of specialties. They are supported by Dr Adeel Ghaffar, Consultant Physician and Foundation Programme Director, and Audrey Ryan, who is the Associate Director of Medical Education.

Dr Anna Hope grew up in Osmington, and attended sixth form at Thomas Hardy School in Dorchester. She was the first person in her family to attend university; attending Newcastle University which has been training generations of doctors at its medical school since 1834.

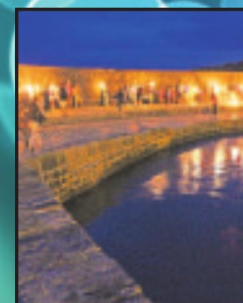

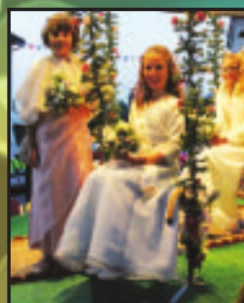

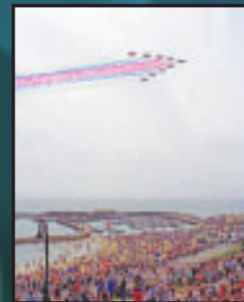

Dr Hope said: "I enjoyed my time at Newcastle, and it was great to work with a different patient demographic, and to understand the challenges of delivering healthcare in areas of social deprivation. From my experiences of hospitals in the North East, it seemed that smaller hospitals tended to be friendlier – in the larger hospitals sometimes the senior staff were less approachable. This was one of the reasons I wanted to come back to DCH; I wanted to work in a smaller, friendly hospital with a real sense of community."

Dr Jessica Davey attended Wey Valley School before moving to Thomas Hardy School for sixth form. Dr Davey said: "Before I went to sixth form I wasn't really aware of medicine as a career, it was only talking to friends whose parents were medics that I understood that becoming a doctor was a realistic career choice for me." Although the competitiveness of applying for a place at medical school was daunting, Jessica was successful and was in the first generation of her immediate family to go to university. She attended the Peninsula Medical School, undertaking training in Exeter, Plymouth and Cornwall. She said: "I had heard very good things about DCH – I was keen to work in a small hospital, and when I heard the feedback from other doctors who had trained at DCH, I knew it was where I wanted to undertake my training".

Flats plan proceeding but will they be 'affordable'?

SO-CALLED 'affordable' homes being planned for the site of tennis courts in Dorchester town centre will still need an income of more than £30,000 – well above the local average.

The one-bed flats are expected to be available for between £90,000 and £100,000 – using the town council owned tennis court plot in the corner of the Trinity Street car park, a site which is surrounded by trees and backs onto the Walks, at the edge of the Borough Gardens.

At least 20 flats are being considered for the site – according to a public meeting held in the Corn Exchange last week.

The Dorchester Area Community Land Trust (DACLT), which is behind the development says that good progress is being made – but are still unable to say when work might start on building the new homes.

Those attending the meeting heard that a feasibility study is being planned prior to depositing a planning application to West Dorset District Council.

The flats will be made available to those under 35 living or working in the town who have a single, or combined income of £30,000.

WI for Poundbury

A MEETING is being held in Poundbury this week to set up a new Women's Institute group.

It is being held today, Wednesday 22nd, at 7.30pm at the Quiet Space.

"We see WI members as playing an effective role in the community, expanding their horizons and developing and passing on important skills. Varied activities, talks, visits and social event are enjoyed by all" said a statement from the county federation.

Bands reunited is a big success for Weldmar

■ SUCCESSFUL reunion - Chris Dean, Paul Ward, Simon Breakspear, Diane Bentley

A SELL-OUT gig by local bands from the 1960s and 70s has raised £2,600 for the Weldmar hospice trust.

The 'Da Boys Are Back in Town' evening at Weymouth's Centenary Club sold out almost as soon as it was advertised.

Chris Dean, one of the organisers, said: "We were overjoyed that all 300 tickets sold out so quickly. We held a waiting list, and were very thankful when tickets were donated back to us from supporters who could no longer attend."

The evening was organised by Chris with Simon Breakspear, Phil McDonnell, with support from Paul Ward of the Centenary Club.

"Paul would open up the Centenary Club for us whenever we needed in the lead up to the gig, allowing all the bands to rehearse and get used to the space. This was really kind of him, as many of the musicians hadn't seen each other for many, many years. But, once they started playing, it was like they'd never lost contact".

Simon Breakspear said: "It was a one in a million evening. It went so well and all the bands played really well. The venue was full up from six o'clock until the end. And the fact that we were raising so much money for Weldmar Hospicecare was the icing on the cake."

Those performing were: the Crescendoes; Blind Harvest; Conquerors/Crystal Ship; Package Deal; Brahms & Liszt and Violin Shoppe/Abacus.

Diane Bentley, Weldmar's Community Engagement Fundraiser, said: "I was delighted to meet up with some of the guys behind this event – and was overjoyed that they have managed to raise so much for Weldmar. It is only with the support of our local community that we can continue to provide our outstanding services across Dorset".

Said Simon Breakspear: "I can honestly say it was a total success. We'll be doing it again next year because it went so well".

Children's home under threat of closure

STAFF at Maumbury House Community Home in Dorchester, have been told that the county council may seek to close and dispose of the unit.

Up to 30 jobs could go at the house which is Dorset's only home for children with emotional and behavioural difficulties.

The matter is to be discussed by the council cabinet next month and all options were being considered.

A council spokesman said: "The county council has a responsibility to consider whether it can provide sufficiently for looked-after children.

"This includes fostering and other types of residential arrangements, based on the specific needs of the children.

"In this context, the review of Maumbury House residential children's home forms part of this process."

Unison, which represents public sector workers, said some children were already living in guest houses following the closure of another home.

Unison branch secretary Amanda Brown said: "We are already seeing the fallout of this. We have young people staying in bed and breakfast, in hotels, in holiday homes, supported by the staff that were in the West End House that was closed a couple of weeks ago.

"We are seeing out-of-county placements rising and they are a huge cost and it alienates the young people from their communities, their schools, their family and friends. It's an ill conceived idea."

However, safeguarding councillor Steve Butler said: "Dorset County Council is submitting a paper to its meeting of cabinet members on December 6th which will outline the various options.

"At this point in time all the options are being kept open and will be considered."

In July, Maumbury House, which provides long-term placements for up to five young people - was rated inadequate by an Ofsted inspection.

A ribbon-cutting marks the handover of the final phase of affordable new Stonewater homes in Poundbury's North East Quadrant. # Ribbon cutting marks the completion of five-year affordable house building programme

THERE were 14 good reasons for local people to celebrate this week following the handover of the final phase of affordable new Stonewater homes in Poundbury's North East Quadrant.

The event marks the social housing provider's completion of a five-year housebuilding programme which has helped to deliver 72 homes in Poundbury for low-cost rent and affordable shared ownership. Financed by Stonewater, the properties were developed in partnership with West Dorset District Council, The Duchy of Cornwall and regional contractors CG Fry & Son and Morrish Builders.

Poundbury is a 400-acre mixed-use urban extension to the western edge of Dorchester which has been designed, under the direction of HRH The Prince of Wales, as a walkable, sustainable community which gives priority to people rather than cars. It houses around 3,000 local people in a mix of rental and shared-ownership homes on land owned by the Duchy of Cornwall. One in three Poundbury homes is affordable housing. The North East Quadrant is the third phase of the Duchy development which, when completed in 2022, will provide a mix of 505 new homes, commercial premises, a public park and community facilities. By 2025, with the addition of the North West Quadrant, Poundbury will expand to at least 2,200 homes.

Stonewater's most recently completed mini-scheme in the North East Quadrant offers eight three-bedroom houses and one two-bedroom coach house for affordable rent, and four three-bedroom houses and one two-bedroom coach house for low-cost shared ownership. Built by local contractors Morrish Builders, the energy-efficient properties, some with private gardens, are within easy reach of Poundbury's public transport, local schools, shops, services and leisure facilities. The community also has its own garden allotments and cycle routes to nearby Dorchester.

"We're delighted to have completed this significant affordable housebuilding programme in with the support of The Duchy of Cornwall, the council and our construction partners," said Jonathan Layzell, Stonewater's Executive Director for Development. "With second-home ownership and wealthy incomers inflating the housing market in the Dorchester area, it's becoming extremely difficult for local people - particularly young families - to afford a place to live in the local community. We hope our Poundbury homes are helping to address this problem and that this most recently completed Stonewater development will provide 14 local families with a fantastic home of their own, close to their family and friends this Christmas."

This latest Stonewater housing scheme has provided six local apprentice placements in a variety of roles, including carpentry and bricklaying, throughout the construction.

Ben Murphy, Estate Director for the Duchy of Cornwall, says: "The Duchy of Cornwall is committed to delivering a vibrant mixed-use community in Poundbury with a wide range of high quality housing to meet local housing need, and we are proud to deliver 35 per cent affordable housing for people and families on the local housing register. I am delighted that Stonewater has managed to provide six local apprentice placements throughout the construction of these magnificent properties, helping meet two of the key principles of Poundbury, to create local jobs and to support traditional building and craftsmanship."

Councillor Tim Yarker, West Dorset District Council's Portfolio Holder for Housing, says: "It is fantastic that Stonewater has managed to build so many high quality, affordable homes on this one site in the last five years. Affordable housing makes an essential contribution to the sustainability of the local community and assists in fulfilling local housing need.

"I'd like to thank Stonewater for their contribution, and look forward to working with them in future developments."

Stonewater owns and manages 457 homes across West Dorset.

RNLI coffee morning

ALMOST £1,200 was raised at the Weymouth RNLI annual coffee morning held at the Pavilion.

Items on sale ranged from Christmas cards to cakes and bric-a-brac with music from the Dorset Wrecks.

Carol Pitman, Chair of the Events Committee from the lifeboat station said: "Thank you to all of you who supported the event in any way, either by advertising to friends and neighbours, by donating items or by coming along on the day and having a cup of coffee with us – without you, these events would not happen, and our lifeboat would be the poorer for it."

The next event to be held at the lifeboat station will be the annual Carol Service on Friday, December 15th at 7.30 pm.

Rodwell litter pick

A WINTER litter pick is being held along Weymouth's Rodwell Trail this weekend – with additional volunteers invited to join in.

It will take place this Saturday, November 25th, from 9.30am until 11.30am, starting from the Sandsfoot Castle café.

Bags and pick-up sticks will be provided by the borough council who will also collect and dispose of the litter collected.

The event is being organised by the Friends of the Rodwell Trail group.

Paul Atterbury talk

BBC Antiques Roadshow expert, Paul Atterbury, will be speaking at a fundraiser in Holy Trinity Church, Weymouth this week.

His talk will start at 7.30pm on Friday 24th with tickets costing £10. These can be bought in advance by calling 01305 839737.

A new wheelchair-friendly viewing platform has opened at the Chesil Beach Centre – allowing those with disabilities to get closer to wildlife. Dorset Wildlife Trust's platform has been designed to allow visitors a new viewpoint to observe the wildlife of the Fleet Lagoon, which is next to the centre.

The platform has been created thanks to a donation made by DWT corporate partners, Dorset Coastal Cottages, who gave Dorset's largest wildlife charity £3,500 towards the project. Dorset Coastal Cottages has supported DWT for over 10 years, and has also donated towards other projects over that time.

Jeremy Smith from Dorset Coastal Cottages said: "We are delighted to support Dorset Wildlife Trust to help look after the local environment. Through funding the new viewing platform at the Chesil Centre we have helped provide something tangible, that our guests can come and visit. We hope that witnessing wildlife in its natural coastal habitat will help inspire both local people and visitors to help look after wildlife through supporting Dorset Wildlife Trust."

DWT's Weymouth & Portland Visitor Experience Officer, Emily Brown, added: "Migrating birds on the Fleet Lagoon is one of the best wildlife spectacles of the year, so we want everyone to have an opportunity to experience watching it. Binoculars can be rented from the Chesil Beach Centre for those who don't own a pair but still want to get a glimpse of all the action. Last week, there were reports of thousands of brent geese flocking, so this is a great time of year to visit the Centre and Fleet Lagoon and we're very pleased it is now accessible for all."

The Chesil Beach Centre also has a disabled access toilet and disabled car parking spaces in the pay and display car park.

THE family and friends of Ralphie Ellard, who hosted a "Rockin for Ralphie" music festival in Weymouth, have raised over £4,000 from the event.

It took place at the Ocean Room in Weymouth Pavilion and was attended by 250 people – with the funds raised via ticket sales, a raffle with over £1,000 worth of prizes and a Prosecco Bar.

Ralphie was born two years ago with severe cerebral palsy and this affects his speech, muscle reactions, ability to walk and his ability to eat normally.

The consultants looking after Ralphie's condition fitted a device to his stomach earlier in the month as a way of introducing food, fluids and medicines directly into the stomach by passing a thin tube through the skin. The operation was a success and Ralphie was able to attend the fundraising event for an hour.

Sian Ellard, Ralphie's Mum said:

"We were originally fundraising for Ralphie to have his own wheelchair which was adapted just for him and his needs; we are around half way there with all funds raised for Ralphie so far. As we go on this journey with Ralphie there will inevitably be other things that pop up that we need to fund for. Just as the most recent example, Ralphie had his PEG (stomach feeder) fitted, so we now have to purchase different style harnesses for all of his equipment. And these can become very expensive; the money we have raised at Rockin for Ralphie is really going to help with this."

Sian went on to say: "We hope to continue to raise much needed funds for Ralphie by holding other events locally. Our next idea is to hold an open to everyone fire walk. We would also love to hold another band night, and at some point a family fun day. Thank you so much to everyone who came, everyone who donated prizes, the bands who provided their time for free, the security, the designers and printers, the volunteers. It means so much to see how loved our brave little boy is. Last but not least Ralphie's family and friends who were amazing in helping to organise the event and attending on the night, I really could not have done it without them and I thank them all from the bottom of our hearts."

Local bands who gave their time free of charge were The Leggomen, Milk & Two, Under the Carousel, Hustle, Chloe Tom & Jack on the Box and Sooty's Disco. Sponsors were the Weymouth Pavilion, Extra Mile Chauffeur Travel, UDL security, Popcorn Marketing, Dorset Abilities Group plus Sherrens for printing the posters and to Inked Engine for the design. Donate at Raising Ralphie <http://just4children.org/children-helped2017/raising-for-ralphie/>

■ VOLUNTEERS from Hardy's Birthplace visitor centre have won the prestigious Dorset Volunteer Group of the Year award. The award from the Volunteer Centre Dorset, was in recognition of the achievements of the group over the last two years.

The volunteers are part of an NHS Support, Transition and Recovery Team (START) that attend the Dorset County Council run visitor centre. This group's work has included creating wildlife gardens, making bird boxes, coppicing hazel, maintaining the Roman Road as well as assisting in the creation of the entrance feature and benches throughout the reserve using timber from the woodland.

Christmas campaign for hospital's Cancer Appeal

Dorset County Hospital Charity staff are launching their Christmas Fundraising Campaign on behalf of the Cancer Appeal at Dorset County Hospital.

Thanks to a number of local fundraising events, individual donations and staff fundraising, the appeal now stands at nearly £1.4 million out of a target of £1.75 million.

The charity's popular 5p Challenge, which is part of the appeal, has just hit the one mile mark, which means that enough 5ps have been donated to stretch a mile, raising £4,500.

Abi Orchard, Lead Cancer Nurse, who had the original idea said: "We never thought it would be so popular – so many people have brought in their 5ps for the challenge and more are coming in every day. We wondered at the beginning if we would even hit one mile – now we are aiming for two." Anyone wanting to take part in the challenge should contact the charity on 01305 253424 to find out how they can help.

A number of other events are also planned for the next few weeks.

Simon Pearson, head of fundraising said: "We are asking staff, the community and local businesses to take part in our Christmas campaign by organising simple fundraising events and getting their friends and families involved. We can help with ideas, posters, collection tins and general support if people would like to fundraise for us."

"Last year at Christmas the hospital received many generous donations and we would love to hear from anyone who would like to support us this year."

One department at the hospital is having a festive fundraising day on December 13th – medical/surgical outpatients supported the Cancer Appeal last year and are hoping to raise even more this year. Organiser Gemma Harris, a Senior Sister on the ward, said: "We've got a fantastic raffle with amazing prizes donated by local businesses – we are hoping to sell all our tickets and may even need to get some more. Our patients and their families have also been so generous – we appreciate all the donations we've received. We'll be wearing our Christmas fancy dress so it should be a great day." Gemma added that any donations for the tombola would be gratefully received on the ward up until December 12th.

The Cancer Appeal is funding a Cancer Outpatients Department which is being built on top of the new Robert White Radiotherapy Unit currently under construction at the hospital. It is part of a £9 million project bringing radiotherapy services to Dorchester for the first time.

If you would like to support the appeal by making a donation or organising a fundraising event please contact the charity on 01305 253215, visit www.dchft.nhs.uk/charity or email charity@dchft.nhs.uk

Welcome support for Fortuneswell Trust

MIKE Fox presents the funds he has raised to Sister Sarah Burrows of the Fortuneswell Ward at Dorset County Hospital

FORMER Portland British Legion Club steward, Mike Fox, has presented a cheque for £3,000 to Fortuneswell Cancer Trust – with a further £2,000 to Weldmar.

The money was raised in the name of his partner, Karen Young, who was being treated on the Fortuneswell Ward at Dorset County Hospital for bowel cancer.

Karen passed away having been treated in her final illness at DCH and Joseph Weld Hospice. At her funeral, a further £1,000 was raised in donations. A total of £3,000 was presented to the ward's cancer charity, and an additional £2,000 to Weldmar Hospicecare Trust.

When he retired as steward of the Portland club Mike organised a charity night, raising initially £2,000. When local benefactor Paul Rodriguez heard Mike's story, he donated a further £2,000.

Mike is pictured presenting the cheque for £3,000 to Sister Sarah Burrows in the Fortuneswell Ward at DCH. He said "I hope to continue to support Fortuneswell in my retirement."

Dr David Evans, chairman of the Fortuneswell Cancer Trust, said: "Mike has been one of our most stalwart supporters over the years and many local cancer sufferers have benefited from his efforts".

Over the last 18 years, Mike has raised more than £40,000 for good causes. In the last four years his efforts have been directed towards cancer charities with the Fortuneswell Cancer Trust being the main beneficiary.

Helping to get older people outdoors

GRANT funding of between £100 and £2,000 is available in Dorset for initiatives that will help older people get active outdoors.

Cllr Daryl Turner, the county council's Cabinet member for natural and built environment, said: "We want to encourage local community groups to come forward with ideas that help older people get outdoors in the natural environment.

"Being outdoors and sharing it with someone, even for a short time, is a crucial part of living well.

"Many people today have become detached from the natural world for various reasons such as mobility, lack of confidence or transport. The grants offer a great opportunity to fund projects which helps reconnect older people, including those with dementia, with nature and enjoy the benefits it brings to health and wellbeing."

Julie Hammon, Project Officer for AONB, said: "We would really like to see new projects which make the natural environment accessible for all, create opportunities to learn new skills and reduce feelings of social isolation and loneliness in local communities.

"We are particularly keen to hear from people in Dorchester, Bridport, Beaminster, Swanage, Lyme Regis, Chickkerell or the immediate surrounding areas who are looking at creating dementia friendly greenspaces or activities."

For more information on the project, grant criteria and application form visit www.stepin2nature.org. You can also email stepin2nature@dorsetcc.gov.uk, or call Julie Hammon for an informal chat about your project on 01305 224785.

Funding for the projects comes from the Big Lottery Fund, Stepping into Nature, led by the Dorset Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) team.

More than just a recipe book

A WELDMAR Recipe Book has gone on sale locally, raising funds for the hospice charity based in Dorchester.

It has been produced by the arts therapies team at the trust with the help of patients, their families and staff.

More than 90 patients, family members, volunteers and staff helped with the book – talking about their favourite food related memories, recipes and top cooking tips.

Stories included one from a shepherd who used to enjoy lamb tail stew, and one from a lady who remembered collecting coal washed up on the Northumberland coast as a girl to swap it in her corner shop for a bag of sweets.

Contributors have shared the inspiring ways in which they've reinvented the way they cook in order to cope with the limited mobility

■ Weldmar staff, volunteers and day services patients with the recipe book they now have since living with an illness. Others have shared how their loss of appetite or changing tastes have affected their quality of life. Family members have shared the ideas they've developed in coping with their loved one's changing eating habits.

Eileen Haste, Weldmar's arts practitioner, said of the project: "It's been such a delight to spend time with people and hear their stories and ideas. It's moving to read about childhood memories alongside those describing how a loss of appetite has affected a person's wellbeing. And that's just the stories. There's a bonanza of recipes and tips in the book. One patient described freezing whole lemons that can then be grated over meals that need that extra zing. Brilliant! The book has become a real treasure trove."

The book also has an introduction from Sam White, the head chef at Weldmar's inpatient unit in Dorchester, Joseph Weld Hospice. Having specialist experience of cooking for patients and family members, Sam and her team have contributed recipes that focus on nutrition, simplicity and affordability.

● The book is now available for £3.50 in the Weldmar Hospice care charity shops.

■ Marianne Storey chief executive of Dorset Mind at the auction

Auction support for Dorset Mind

A CHARITY sale at a Dorchester auction house has raised just under £4,500 for the mental health charity Dorset Mind.

More than 150 people were at Duke's Auctioneers for an evening charity auction organised by Dorchester businessman David Upshall.

The money will be used to help pay for the charity's expansion into West Dorset.

Mr Upshall commented: "I am delighted and have to thank all the local businesses and individuals who provided such marvellous items and of course the people who kindly bid. The evening was a tremendous success raising much - needed funds so I would also like to add my thanks to Duke's Auctioneers."

The evening ended with a brief talk by Dorset Mind's chief executive Marianne Storey who asked people if they would spare a minute and vote for them in a community funding programme run by Aviva which would if they won, enable them to open ten rural Dorset support groups.

If you would like to help them achieve this by voting go to: www.aviva.co.uk/good-thinking/community-fund/ or to Dorset Mind's website for more details (www.dorsetmind.uk)

Fears for the future in areas of outstanding natural beauty

RESEARCHERS fear Dorset's Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty are under threat by the growing housing demand in the county.

Thirty-one areas in Dorset have been named in a report published this week that highlights a sharp rise in housing applications over the past five years.

Guidelines state that major planning permissions should be refused except in 'exceptional circumstances'.

Richard Burden, from an AONB partnership in the south west, said there is a contradiction in what the government says Dorset needs to prioritise:

"There's a fundamental conflict that Government has said - since 1949 - these Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty should be conserved and enhanced. But at the same time they're saying we've got to build houses, and of course there's a conflict between providing houses and preserving your best landscapes."

The report was commissioned by the National Association for Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty and the Campaign for the Protection of Rural England.

Mr Burden added: "Responses to a government consultation document Planning for the Right Homes in the Right Places raises the issue that building homes in areas of great landscape beauty will tend to attract more buyers rather than depress prices. Any reduction in house prices might measure not the benefit of extra supply, but the damage to the attractiveness of the area."

David Dixon and associates Neil Sinden and Tim Crabtree researched and compiled An Independent Review of Housing in England's Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty (2012-2017) and they note "unprecedented growth" in the number of new houses approved in several AONBs as being a response to the country's growing need for housing. Planning for the Right Homes in the Right Places suggested a total annual housing need across the country of 266,000 homes. But paragraph 116 of the National Planning Policy Framework states that major planning permissions in AONBs should be refused, except in 'exceptional circumstances' and where it can be demonstrated that the particular development is in the public interest.

Despite this, the CPRE's report highlights the "increasing concern among LPAs about refusing proposals for housing development on AONB grounds alone".

Additionally, developers are becoming increasingly confident that they can secure permission from LPAs, while AONBs are seen as attractive locations for building that attracts high returns. Appeal successes, however, did decline over the period.

The research also found that there is a significant lag in the provision of housing, with up to 25 per cent of the houses approved in AONBs over the five years not yet built."

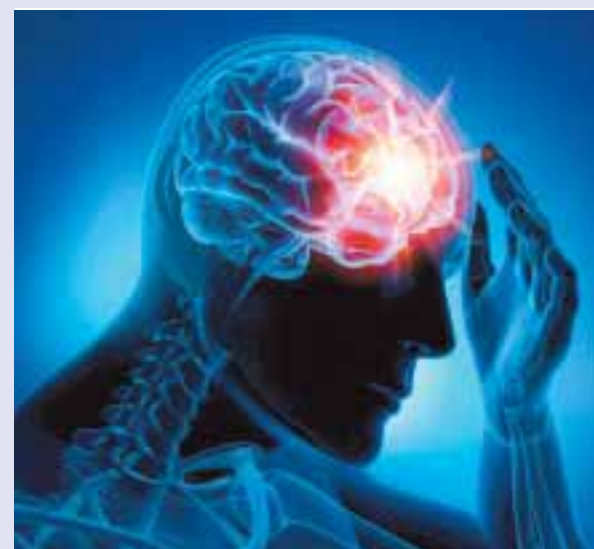

The CPRE has stated that unless the government and local authorities take action now, more beautiful landscapes will be lost forever. It has recommended that all AONBs are given the statutory right to be consulted for major development proposals in their area.

Emma Marrington, CPRE senior rural policy campaigner, said: "While CPRE advocates the building of the right homes in the right places, AONBs are not the right place. On top of this, current development in AONBs shows little evidence that what's built will actually help solve the housing crisis, which is more to do with affordability than lack of land."

On a positive note, the researchers found that many AONB teams, working with local communities and landscape specialists, make small scale housing schemes work alongside the delivery of the AONB ethos. The report states: "Achieving the right site selection, layout and design for housing in AONB areas is critical to delivering the high quality, locally distinctive homes that enhance landscape character in AONB areas."

AONB directors say the purposes of AONB designation are to conserve and enhance natural beauty, and that these areas are a limited and diminishing resource.

Weymouth man wants to raise epilepsy awareness

A WEYMOUTH man living with epilepsy is calling for more awareness of the condition.

Gavin Roberts underwent major surgery in a bid to improve his quality of life.

He's asking people to donate to charities such as Epilepsy Action.

Gavin says people's lives are often at risk and more funding could make a difference:

"We need more research into finding a cure to reduce the number of deaths and cases who need surgery."

Epilepsy is a common condition that affects the brain and causes frequent seizures caused by bursts of electrical activity in the brain that temporarily affects how it works.

The condition can start at any age, but usually begins either in childhood or in people over 60. It's often lifelong, but can sometimes get slowly better over time (source: NHS).

Seizures can affect people in different ways, depending on which part of the brain is involved.

Symptoms can include:

- uncontrollable jerking and shaking - called a "fit"
- losing awareness and staring blankly into space
- becoming stiff
- strange sensations - such as a "rising" feeling in the tummy, unusual smells or tastes, and a tingling feeling in your arms or legs

- collapsing

Gavin says it's vital that people get to know more about the condition.

"If people know what to do during a seizure that can help so many people."

Here's what to do if you see someone having a seizure or fit:

- don't panic
- move them away from anything that could cause injury - such as a busy road or hot cooker
- cushion their head if they're on the ground
- loosen any tight clothing around their neck - such as a collar or tie, to aid breathing
- when their convulsions stop, turn them so that they're lying on their side
- stay with them and talk to them calmly until they have recovered
- note the time the seizure starts and finishes
- You don't necessarily have to call an ambulance but you should dial 999 if:
  - it's the first time someone has had a seizure
  - the seizure lasts for more than five minutes
  - the person doesn't regain full consciousness, or has a series of seizures without regaining consciousness

Wildcats return is on the cards

WEYMOUTH Wildcats say they have plans to bring speedway back to the area in a joint venture.

Co-owner Martin Peters said: "I'm extremely happy to bring back speedway back to the area. And after a few knock backs we could well be on the road to bringing back this fabulous sport to the area."

Co-owner James Tresadern

added: "After two years of hard work, we can finally say that this news was just what we needed to hear. So many brick walls have been put up in front of us, but we have kept on going, never given up hope. Now the next step starts. There is a way to go yet, but we're looking forward to a positive future for Weymouth Wildcats."

Carers can get extra visiting time in hospital

CARERS can now spend more time alongside loved ones in Dorset's community hospitals, thanks to a new scheme.

Dorset HealthCare is introducing a 'carer's passport' system, giving people hospital access outside of regular visiting hours and providing vital extra support to patients as and when they need it.

The "passport" was piloted at hospitals in Weymouth, Portland and St Leonards, near Ringwood, last year. Initially open to carers of people with dementia, it proved so successful it is now being rolled out to all 11 community hospitals in the county.

These include Bridport Hospital, Portland Hospital, the Westhaven Hospital at Weymouth and the main hospital in the town.

The scheme is now open to anyone who cares for a relative, partner or friend with on-going physical or mental health problems.

Under the system, carers identify themselves on arrival at the hospital and are given a badge, or 'passport', which allows them to stay beyond regular visiting hours – providing reassurance and additional help for the person they are caring for.

Hospital staff welcome carers throughout the day and into the evening, though overnight stays will be at the discretion of ward nurses.

Mary Karchel, who lives near Sherborne, was the main carer for her late husband Peter, who had Parkinson's Disease. Last year, he spent the final months of his life at the Yeatman Hospital, where Mary was able to visit him as often as she wished.

"The hospital staff involved me in the care, invited me to give my opinions and at every junction would inform me of any changes in care or things they would like to do," she said.

"I could go in at any time – day or night, it didn't matter – and that was a great support in looking after Peter.

"I used to visit him in the afternoons but he was often asleep and I couldn't chat to him. So a nurse would often call me in the morning and say: 'he is awake now – come and stay as long as you like'.

"We had the most wonderful help and care."

The carer's passport idea was sparked by John's Campaign, a national initiative founded in late 2014 following the death of dementia patient Dr John Gerrard.

His daughter Nicci faced restricted visiting access during his final days, and began campaigning for more access for carers, a move backed by NHS England.

Julia Jones, co-founder of John's Campaign, said: "It's thrilling to have all of Dorset HealthCare's hospitals making this offer to carers, and we hope it will encourage more hospitals around the UK to get on board with our campaign."

Beaminster Chiropractic Clinic

Christmas Shopping Needn't Be A Pain In The Neck!

EVERY New Year, Beaminster Chiropractic Clinic sees patients whose Christmases have been ruined by joint and muscle pain, much of which was preventable.

Some of this upsurge arises from Christmas shopping, so we asked our local musculoskeletal specialists for their top tips on how to avoid seasonal muscle meltdown:

- Shop little and often.

1 - Don't let the fact that it's still only November prevent you from picking up something you know is the perfect present ... buying in dribs and drabs prevents overloading muscles, joints and ligaments.

2 - Don't leave it all till the last moment (blokes are you reading this!).

- Park as close as you can.

1 - Make regular trips back to the car to drop off bags before they become too heavy.

- Take breaks

1 - A warming, rehydrating cuppa can help at many levels.

- Have a plan

1 - The longer you spend shuffling round shops, the more things can start to ache, so go to buy, don't wander aimlessly.

- Wear comfortable shoes.

1 - A good fit and padded soles take strain off backs and legs whilst you're pounding pavements.

- Think about how you're going to transport stuff.

1 - Can you use a backpack?

2 - A shopping trolley can be a good idea... but push it, don't pull.

3 - Carry shopping bags equally on both sides so you're balanced.

4 - If it's heavy, can get it delivered?

- Mind your posture!

1 - Don't slump: walk tall with your shoulders back.

And if you are struggling, Beaminster Chiropractic Clinic is open before, during and after Yuletide!

Fire Brigades Union chair Scott Young said: "Since the Cathedral Yard fire we have all witnessed the horror of Grenfell Tower, which is a wake-up call regarding the need for more effective fire and building safety. # Kate Adie is guest of the Dorset Men

THE Queen has sent her best wishes to the Society of Dorset Men.

The royal message was read at the county dinner by president of the group, Lord Fellowes.

The message has been a feature of the county dinner since 1904, when King Edward VII first sent his greetings.

Guest speaker at the meeting was veteran BBC war correspondent Kate Adie, who now lives near Dorchester.

She told the audience: "It's just wonderful living here in Dorset, locals always chat and pass the time of day...I adore the Dorset landscape, adore the coast and I am very happy here. It is a real privilege to live in Dorset."

This year's royal message from Buckingham Palace read: "The Queen was pleased to receive your kind message of loyal greetings. Her Majesty much appreciates your thoughtfulness in writing and wishes all members of The Society of Dorset Men a successful evening at their County Dinner this evening." Lord Fellowes spoke of the Society's "steadfast and unchanging loyalty" to The Queen.

Ms Adie spoke about her early life in Sunderland, much bombed in the war and at Newcastle University, where she had undertaken Swedish and Icelandic studies.

Her first BBC job was with Radio Durham. Later, she became a regional television reporter, then in 1989 was promoted to be the BBC's chief news correspondent. "I was able to wander around the world, talking to people who had stories to tell, meeting people full of energy for life. I've never lost a sense of optimism," she said.

In a ceremony dating back to the first days of the society in 1904, a Dorset Blue Vinny cheese was carried in by the head chef, to the clapping of diners. Lord Fellowes had the privilege of tasting it and pronouncing it fit to eat.

Chairman Stuart Adam thanked Lord Fellowes for his leadership and his interest in the society. Secretary Hayne Russell was thanked for his organisation of the annual event, held at the George Albert Hotel on Wardon Hill. Among guests of the president were Captain Angus Campbell (HM Lord Lieutenant of Dorset), John Young (HM High Sheriff of Dorset) and the society's deputy president Dr Paul Atterbury.

President Lord Fellowes concluded the evening: "We live in difficult times but in my opinion exciting and full of promise. I believe we are all lucky to be living in Dorset."

The Society of Dorset Men was founded 113 years ago on 7 July 1904. Originally it was intended for Dorset exiles in the capital city, however since the 1970s the main activities of the organisation have been centred on Dorset. Today, there are around 1,150 members throughout the UK and all over the world.

Membership of The Society of Dorset Men costs £15 a year. For further information, see www.societyofdorsetmen.co.uk or telephone Membership Secretary Peter Lush at 01305 260039.

Pupils become eco champions of the next generation

POUNDBURY'S only school has joined in the Refill scheme which aims to help reduce the number of single use plastic bottles.

Those who sign up to the scheme agree to fill individual's water bottles for free, encouraging people to have a reusable water bottle rather than reaching for a disposable plastic one.

The project is locally being run by Litter Free Coast and Sea, who have been working with Damers First School Eco Club, and Dorset County Council Sustainable Schools to get Poundbury refilling.

Charlie Wild, Litter Free Coast & Sea Project Officer, explains: "Refill is a great way to get people aware of reducing their single use plastic. It's also great from a health aspect, encouraging people to drink more water. We've found that a lot of businesses already offer this as a service, and many are keen to promote what they are already doing. Refills are free, but we often find people purchasing something else like cake or coffee at the same time. For businesses, it helps reduce their rubbish and recycling, whilst showing customers that they have an invested interest in the local environment."

Damers First School got involved after being inspired by National Recycling Week in September, during which the school held a special recycling assembly and all children took part in learning about the impact of waste in the environment. Four children had the chance to go to London to meet Mark Janovich, CEO of Delphis Eco who launched the first 100 per cent UK Post-Consumer Recycled Bottle. They also had the chance to meet Prince Charles's Sustainability Officer at Clarence House, who spoke about Prince Charles's Plastic Ocean work. Edd Moore, Eco Club coordinator, said: "From all this the children wanted to do their bit locally to help cut down on the use of plastic that can cause so much harm to the environment and marine wildlife."

■ Eco club members at Damers First School in Poundbury

The Eco Club wrote to local businesses in Poundbury, explaining about the Refill scheme, and why it was important to get involved. After one afternoon, they had signed up 18 businesses, with more wanting to get involved since.

Alison Jay, Sustainable Schools Project Officer at Dorset County Council, said: "This brilliant scheme will make a real difference locally and to the environment. It just shows what a group of confident and knowledgeable children can achieve. They are just the sort of champions the world needs, and a great example of an Eco-School working in the wider community to make a difference."

There are now over 100 Refill stations in Dorset, ranging from venues such as cafes and coffee shops, to a publishing company and estate agents.

Charlie Wild said: "Single use plastic bottles are still one of the most common items of litter we find on litter picks and beach cleans. It is a simple switch that will make a big difference - both here in Dorset, and further afield."

Each business taking part in the scheme displays a 'Refill here' blue sticker in their window to show customers it is possible to ask for a refill.

Recognition for providing the best childcare in Dorset

DEDICATED staff working with young children in Dorset have been praised for their commitment at the annual Early Years and Childcare Awards ceremony organised by Dorset County Council.

The ceremony recognised nurseries, pre-schools and childminders that have been rated as 'Outstanding' by Ofsted over the last year. Awards were also given to individuals who have shown their commitment to improving education and care of children by gaining graduate Early Years Teacher Status and early years degrees.

The event was held at Hethfelton House, an education centre and events venue near Bovington which is run to support the Jim Cronin Memorial Fund, a charity set up in memory of Monkey World's founder. The charity's Chief Executive, Shelley Fletcher, spoke at the event about some of the similarities between caring for primates and children. This included issues such as bullying and neglect, but also encouraging communication and friendships.

Deborah Croney, Cabinet member for Economy, Education, Learning and Skills at Dorset County Council said: "I am thrilled that so many dedicated staff have been recognised with these awards. With these devoted practitioners working with children in Dorset, we can really influence children's emotional, social and intellectual development."

Patrick Myers, Assistant Director for Children's Services presented the awards, and said "We know from research that children who attend high quality childcare achieve better out-

Christmas in Lyme Regis

Lyme Regis Lights Up for Christmas

SATURDAY 2ND DECEMBER

THE steep and idyllic setting of Broad Street in Lyme Regis lends itself to creating one of the prettiest Christmas lights displays on the south coast.

Residents eagerly await the big switch-on each year – the official start of Christmas in Lyme Regis – and the impressive display seems to continuously out-do itself, with more and more people come each year to see the lights twinkling above Lyme's Georgian architecture.

The ever-improving display has become the true legacy of six-times Mayor of Lyme Regis, the late Barbara Austin MBE. Fed up of Lyme's bleak Christmas illuminations, she set up a committee and worked tirelessly to raise thousands of pounds each year, transforming the town into a winter wonderland.

Since her death shortly after the 2012 switch-on, the Christmas Lights Committee has continued her good work under chairman Christine Lovell, and Barbara has been honoured with a special lantern outside the Royal Lion Hotel.

The big switch-on is always carried out in true Lyme fashion – a parade, Father Christmas, fake snow, jolly festive tunes, warming mulled wine and plenty of "oohs" and "ahhs". Even the grumpiest of Scrooges will struggle not to get into the Christmas spirit!

This year's festivities will be held on Saturday, December 2nd. Children are invited to join in a Christmas lantern-making workshop at the Baptist Church Hall starting at 3pm, or to bring along their pre-made creations for the annual lantern competition and parade.

Judging of lanterns will be held after the workshop at 4.30pm and the parade, including Father Christmas and Lyme Regis Majorettes, will set off down Broad Street at 5.15pm with the street lighting up as it goes. The big moment will follow with the Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Michaela Ellis, switching on the tree at 5.30pm.

The huge Christmas tree which stands at the bottom of Broad Street tops off the festive display and will be the focal point as the traditional 'Carols Round the Tree' service is held on Saturday, December 23rd from 7pm, with songs led by Lyme Regis Town Band.

The carol service is a festive favourite among residents and visitors, and has been held by the Rotary Club of Lyme Regis for 58 years.

The Rotary Club will also be holding their annual Christmas street collection in both Lyme Regis and Charmouth on December 21st, 22nd and 23rd, with funds raised this year going to Dorset charity The Horse Course, which helps young people to overcome serious problems, including behavioural issues.

Boat Building Academy

IT'S BEEN a busy year at the Boat Building Academy on Monmouth Beach. They've exhibited students boats at Country File Live at Blenheim Palace, the Southampton Boat Show and London Craft Week. They gave a talk and workshop on boat building in the inspirational surroundings of Messums Wiltshire. Television cameras visited for an episode of 'Escape to the Country' and Country Life was among the international magazines that published articles about the school on the beach in Lyme Regis. Principal Yvonne Green says '2017 has been a great year for us, but we're looking forward to 2018, when our 38 week boat building course extends to 40 weeks. As part of their training students will spend a week just up the road at local company Rob Perry Marine, where they will learn about marine engines and systems. The first extended course starts in February and it is already fully booked'. Graduates who finished the course in June are now working at, among others, Spirit Yachts, Henley Sales and Charter Ltd, Pendennis and crewing on superyachts. Other students have stayed closer to Lyme Regis. Simon Hawksley has set up a small, specialist yard 'Hawksley Classics' in Bridport where he is building bespoke luxury wooden speed boats. Students who finish the course in November are going to work at Spirit Yachts, Sunseeker and Peter Freebody & Co in Maidenhead, a group of four are setting up 'The Beautiful Boat Company' who will build not only boats but anything people want in wood. Yvonne says 'We're very proud of all the boats and furniture our students have built this year. But we're even prouder of the boat builders and furniture makers that the Academy has built.'

The Mariners Hotel

THE MARINERS HOTEL has an excellent bar and restaurant, open to the public all year round, headed up by an extremely talented duo of chefs, Nick Larby and Shaun Cassidy. The restaurant is open seven nights a week for dinner from 6-8:30pm and are now taking bookings for a special Christmas Day Lunch and a New Years Eve Dinner Dance, both menus for which are available upon request.

Look no further if you are after a true fine dining experience without venturing too far from the sea front! The restaurant uses only local produce from some of the finest local suppliers and the menu changes regularly, sometimes daily, depending on the season, and is constantly evolving.

In addition to the first class restaurant, the bar is also open to non-residents, which now boasts a new gin menu, containing 11 different gins, including Conker Gin from Dorset and the award winning Salcombe Gin from Devon. The menu contains an elderflower & gin liqueur and a rhubarb & gin liqueur, which is fabulous as a cocktail with prosecco – perfect for a festive celebration!

The Mariners Hotel is based on Silver Street and has free parking for visitors in its private car park.

The Bay

AS THE festive season approaches and the autumnal days get shorter there's nothing better than wrapping up warm, popping on your boots and heading down to Lyme Regis for a bracing walk along the beach. On your travels you may have noticed a change to one of the restaurants on the beach front. Now called The Bay, it's owned and run by the guys who brought you The Stable Pizza restaurants. Big plans are brewing with a total refurb pencilled in for the new year.

The guys at The Bay like to do things slightly differently, especially for Christmas, their theory is that you can get a Christmas turkey roast with all the trimmings anywhere but where can you get a Panko breaded turkey burger with melted cheese, sausage patty, smoked bacon, cranberry jam & mayo all served on a toasted brioche bun with french fries? You can also get it with a glass of mulled wine and a mince pie for £15. This is all part of the Christmas burger deal they have running at The Bay throughout the festive season. There's an amazing choice of burgers on offer with a Bubble n Squeak burger, a Pork Belly and Blue Cheese and a panko breaded fish burger to name but a few. All homemade and all delicious. Pop down and try one.

If you would like to make a booking then either pop down and have a chat with our friendly staff, drop them an email or pick up the phone, either way they will be happy to help. You can keep up to date on social media or follow us on instagram, just search for The Bay Lyme.

Flappers, Dappers, Foxtrots and Lindy Hops

Step back to the Roaring 20s
at The Lyric this season

THE LYRIC THEATRE in Bridport is stepping back to the glitz and glamour of the 1920s with two events in the run up to Christmas. On Friday, November 24th, Victoria Hole from the vintage dance troupe Flaming Feathers, will be leading a fun evening workshop in learning to dance the Charleston.

She guarantees to have you heel flicking and toe tapping in no time! From 7-9pm, this one-off class will be stylish and full of humour, with music to match that will definitely get your feet swivelling. Suitable for all levels, you will learn 1920s Charleston through a variety of classic moves, and all the dancing is solo so there's no need to bring a partner. The bar will be open (no prohibition here) from 6:30pm, so bring your dancing shoes and a few clams to spend on liquor. Traditional dress is welcomed but not compulsory, just make sure those dancing shoes are comfortable! It's proving popular so book your place in advance at admin@the-lyric.com or 01308 423951. £12 per person.

Then on Saturday, December 16th, the fabulous surrounds of The Lyric Theatre will set the scene of the 1920s prohibition era, in a decadent night of vintage opulence for The Lyric Prohibition Party! A great big knees up wrapping up 2017 in style.

The Roaring Twenties was a period of social, artistic and cultural dynamism. The Jazz Age blossomed, the flapper redefined the modern look for women, and the rise of the Speakeasy flourished across the nation. To evoke the spirit of the era, The Gatsby Gang will deliver the best of 1920s jazz, guaranteed to get the chandeliers swinging! Sassy vocalist Rachael Roberts is backed by an all-star cast featuring the legendary Tony Roberts (Saxophone/Clarinet), Richard Llewellyn (guitar), James Budden (double bass) and Marc Juan (percussion). DJ Professor Purlblind (from the Gaslight Troubadours) continues the music, spinning some electro-swinging to keep the dance floor jumping - and... is that a gramophone he's playing?! Flaming Feathers dancer Victoria Hole will be on hand to inspire our inner flapper and dapper, as she demonstrates dances of the era and performs with the band. From the moment guests arrive on the red carpet, photographer Simon Emmett will be snapping reportage-style the stylish party goers who've dressed to impress. There will be a prize for the best 'dressed!' Fancy' dress is encouraged but not essential. Performer Toby Gascoigne will comper the evening (some of you may remember The Wahos from The Lyric's festive event a few years ago - Toby was the highly watchable frontman).

The Lyric prohibition bar will be sure to quench your festive thirsts with a range of quaffable delights including cocktails, fizz and liquor. So round up a group and come celebrate the festive season in fabulous style! Perfect for your Christmas do, whether work or social!

Tickets are £15 in advance or £17 on the door, available from Bridport Tourist Information Centre: 01308 424901 / online at www.bridportandwestbay.co.uk, and in person at BearKat Bistro. The event starts at 8pm.

Lucy Stevens brings Whattalife! to Dorchester

LUCY Stevens brings her one woman play with music Whattalife! to Dorchester Arts on Sunday, December 3rd. Kathleen Ferrier was one of Britain's phenomenal women of the 20th Century. Whattalife! tells her story from her debut as a singer in 1940, her meteoric rise and her tragic death in 1953.

Professional actress and contralto, Lucy Stevens has researched and created a unique and totally engaging performance. The text is taken straight from Kathleen's letters and diaries. Sung music from her repertoire is woven through the text.

Whattalife! is the first staged as a dramatisation of Ferrier's life, evoking the spirit of the war and post war years. Just like Kathleen during her short but full life, the show has a great sense of fun and talks straight from the heart.

Tickets are £14 full price or £12 for Members of Dorchester Arts, under-18s or those on low income, and are available from the Dorchester Arts box office on 01305 266926, in person at the Corn Exchange (weekdays 10am - 4pm) or via www.dorchesterarts.org.uk.

Bridport Chamber Orchestra's Seasonal Concert

WITH Christmas in sight, the Bridport Chamber Orchestra is giving a concert with a seasonal flavour, including three pieces with really festive themes.

John Tavener's lovely choral piece "The Lamb" and Ireland's beautiful "The Holy Boy" have been arranged for strings and will be played alongside Corelli's Christmas Concerto, with its pastoral slow movement preceded by a vivid musical depiction of an angelic host.

The concert also includes Vivaldi's Sonata No. V for solo cello and orchestra in which Ruth Lass will take on the lyrical solo cello part, Holst's St Paul's Suite and Mozart's famous Eine Kleine Nachtmusik.

Music critic Bruce Upton said of the BCO's most recent concert: "What a sound! And what happy music! This concert was a truly epic way to close the orchestra's summer season."

What better way could you spend a winter afternoon than hearing sparkling music and enjoying the orchestra's famous home-made cakes and teas.

The concert takes place at the United Church, Bridport, on Sunday, November 26th, 3pm - tickets available on the door, school children free entry.

An evening with an Immigrant

Inua Ellams tells his personal and entertaining story at Dorchester Arts
this December

INUA Ellams is a poet, playwright and a performer. He brings himself, a microphone, a stool, a poem stand and his story, An Evening With An Immigrant to Dorchester Arts on Friday, December 1st at 8pm.

Born to a Muslim father and a Christian mother in what is now considered by many to be Boko Haram territory, in 1996 award-winning poet and playwright Inua Ellams left Nigeria for England aged 12, moved to Ireland for three years, before returning to London and starting work as a writer and graphic designer.

Part of this story was documented in his hilarious autobiographical Edinburgh Fringe First Award-winning play The 14th Tale, but much of it is untold. Littered with poems, stories and anecdotes, Inua will tell his ridiculous, fantastic, poignant immigrant-story of escaping fundamentalist Islam, directing an arts festival at his college in Dublin, performing solo shows at the National Theatre, and drinking wine with the Queen of England, all the while without a country to belong to or place to call home.

Tickets are £12 full price or £10 for Members of Dorchester Arts, under-18s or those on low income, and are available from the Dorchester Arts box office on 01305 266926, in person at the Corn Exchange (weekdays 10am - 4pm) or via www.dorchesterarts.org.uk. Members of Live for 5 aged 14 - 25 can buy tickets for £5 (see Dorchester Arts website for details).

Light up a life with Weldmar Hospicecare

WELDMAR Hospicecare will host their annual Light up a Life services in November and December.

Every year, thousands of people remember and celebrate the lives of loved ones through lights sponsored in their name. Light up a Life is for everyone – not only for the many patients and families Weldmar has helped.

The annual appeal enables families, friends, and supporters of Weldmar to give donations in memory of a loved one. It raises vital funds for Weldmar's work by encouraging people to dedicate a light on one of the trees in memory of those who have died.

Val Gratton of Lyme Regis will be attending her third Light up a Life event, which is one of six held around the area.

Val said "For me it's not about remembering someone, as Mickie is always in my thoughts. It gives you the chance to press the pause button, when you are so busy before Christmas with shopping and buying presents. We all have our traditions at Christmas and when you have lost someone you have to make new traditions, as there's a big hole where that person used to be."

The event Val attends in Abbotsbury Subtropical Gardens features a string quartet, with readings and carols. She has attended since 2015, when she lost Mickie to Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disorder (COPD). The pair had been married for more than 40 years and had three daughters together.

Weldmar became involved with them in 2014, when Mickie was starting to deteriorate and Val says the staff and volunteers were 'amazing' in caring for them both.

They had a volunteer coming in to offer therapy to help him relax, and community nurses would visit. He stayed at the hospice twice, and 'felt happy and safe' despite being prone to terrible panic attacks.

Val said: "The hospice moved us into a larger room, and our daughters came with the babies. The room gave us the chance to be normal, to chat about ordinary things surrounded by baby paraphernalia and just be a family. They were so considerate. Light up a Life gives you a chance to reflect on that person who's not going to be there. You share similar emotions to everyone there and that is reassuring and comforting."

The services will take place in November and December, as this is often the time when the feelings of loss are strongest. The services are a combination of readings and singing of carols which are supported by local community musicians and singers.

Everyone for whom a donation is made is remembered through the lights that will shine on one of Weldmar's special trees; and their names will be recorded in the charity's 2017 Book of Remembrance.

Caroline Hamblett, Weldmar's Chief Executive said: "If you are missing someone this Christmas, our services offer a way to remember them in the most magical and moving way, by lighting up the memory of their life. Your continued support enables us to be here to provide vital services to local people at the time when they need us most."

More details of all the services and of how to dedicate a light to those you wish to remember can be found online at the website www.weld-hospice.org.uk/lightupalife or by calling 01305 261800.

There will be a prayer of remembrance and dedication during the Parish Carol Service in St Michael's Church, Lyme Regis on Sunday, December 17th at 4pm.

Joglearesa The Enchantress of Seville

FOLLOWING their visit to Dorchester last Christmas, Joglearesa, Belinda Sykes' groundbreaking medieval music ensemble, return on Sunday, November 26th at 2.30pm. They will be exploring the roots of Iberian song - motets from the Convent of Las Huelgas, Arab-Andalusian ballads and Judeo-Spanish romanzas.

With medieval and traditional instruments from Europe, North Africa and the Middle East, Joglearesa perform songs kept alive through centuries of tradition - a colourful and timeless kaleidoscope connecting the Occident to the Orient, and the 11th to the 21st century.

Tickets are £15 full price or £13 for Members of Dorchester Arts, under-18s or those on low income, and are available from the Dorchester Arts box office on 01305 266926, in person at the Corn Exchange (weekdays 10am-4pm) or via the website at www.dorchesterarts.org.uk.

Authentic Americana from Back to the Shack

BACK TO THE SHACK play a heady brew of foot-stomping blues and classic Americana, all performed in their own distinct style. With Izi Onslow on vocals and percussion, Axel Keim on dobro and guitar, Brett Nevill on double bass, and Julian Phillips on vocals and accordion, they are quickly establishing themselves as one of the most entertaining bands on the scene, and will be bringing their unique style to the Bridport Arts Centre Jazz Café on Friday, December 8th.

Julian Phillips began playing at the age of ten but he was fourteen before he became aware of boogie woogie. He began to teach himself how to play, listening to and interpreting the music of Jimmy Yancey, Montana Taylor, Leroy Carr, "Cripple" Clarence Lofton and Clarence "Pinetop" Smith. Julian is well known for playing his accordion, an instrument that blends seamlessly with the swing and rhythm of the music. His love and knowledge of the music is infectious and whether playing solo or performing with other musicians, his enjoyment of the music shines through.

Julian has played in concerts and festivals in Europe and America and is highly esteemed by his fellow players. As a teacher, Julian has inspired many young people to follow his example (many of them playing at the UK Boogie Woogie Festival, held annually on the first weekend in July), which is a real tribute to his talent, enthusiasm and love of boogie woogie.

Izi Onslow has been performing boogie and blues for the past two years. During that time she has appeared at numerous events and festivals both in the UK and abroad, and has performed with some of the top musicians on the international blues scene including Big John Carter, Carl 'Sonny' Leyland, Jo Schumacher, David Giorcelli and Ster Wax.

Izi is a frequent collaborator with Julian, and her education in boogie and blues continues to expand. Drawing influences from a broad range of artists from Memphis Minnie to Big Mama Thornton, she is swiftly developing a style that is entirely her own.

Back to the Shack play at Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, December 8th at 8pm. Tickets are £10, available online at www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 424204.

Bristol Jazz duo Charlie + Jake return to Lyme

CHARLIE + JAKE are a Bristol based vocal and piano/ bass duo, combining soulful originals with well-loved jazz standards. Mixing powerful vocals with melodic improvisations they share stories of love, friendship and sense of place, and they will be performing as part of the Marine Theatre's intimate "Jazz in the Bar" series on Sunday, December 10th.

Both studied at Royal Holloway, University of London; there Charlie trained as a classical singer but since then has been pursuing her passion for jazz, and has been singing with big bands for the past four years. Since graduating in 2015 she has been taught by Laurie Holloway, Becki Biggins, Ruth Royall, Victoria Klewin and Beth Rowley.

Jake studied creative sound design and is passionate about exploring new ways of incorporating found sounds and mixed soundscapes into their jazz compositions. Charlie + Jake's latest project has involved collaborating with a group of Bristol poets, transforming their work into poetry-jazz fusions. The project is called Echoes and Edges and is testament to Charlie + Jake's wide ranging musical interests.

They have been performing together for around 18 months and will be showcasing some original songs from their upcoming EP, scheduled for release in early 2018, as well as a selection of popular jazz classics. After performing at the Lyme Regis Jazz and Blues Weekend this year, Charlie + Jake can't wait to be back in Lyme - a place that has always been close to their hearts.

Charlie+Jake play at Jazz in the Bar at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis, on Sunday, December 10th at 8pm. Tickets are £12 and £10, available by calling 01297 442138 or online via the website at www.marinetheatre.com

Two by Two

TWO of the area's professional actors take to the stage at Loders Village Hall, as they near the end of a Dorset tour of nine venues in all. 'TWO' by Jim Cartwright of 'Road' and 'The Rise and Fall of Little Voice' fame, is set in a northern pub in the late 1980s. The actors, Julie Wood of Bridport and Fraser Wilson of Gillingham, play all fourteen parts in this darkly funny and poignant play. They are the landlady and landlord sweet-talking the customers while biting each other's heads off, and the dozen regulars who come in and out during the evening. A review in 'Time Out' magazine called it a play with 'broad humour, dry wit and often shudderingly moving poetry'.

Fraser and Julie both have experience in the theatre, television and film, and met while performing together with Equity.

They chose to tour village halls because of their intimacy which they felt fitting for the play, and because of the culture-loving communities present in Dorset's villages. Julie is particularly happy at playing in Loder's as she has long had an association with the school there; she has taught drama and dance there for many years and written, directed and produced a number of school plays performed in the village hall.

On the last leg of the tour, TWO is at Chetnole Village Hall on November 22nd, Buckland Newton Village Hall on November 23rd, Loders Village Hall on November 24th, and Motcombe Village Hall on November 25th.

All performances start at 7.30pm. For tickets and more information email juliepwood@aol.com or fraserwilson99@hotmail.co.uk. Tickets can also be bought on the door price £9.

National Theatre's Follies on the Gateway's big screen

NEW YORK, 1971. There's a party on the stage of the Weismann Theatre.

Tomorrow the iconic building will be demolished. Thirty years after their final performance, the Follies girls gather to have a few drinks, sing a few songs and lie about themselves.

Including such classic songs as 'Broadway Baby', 'I'm Still Here' and 'Losing My Mind', Stephen Sondheim's legendary musical is staged for the first time at the National Theatre.

Tracie Bennett, Janie Dee and Imelda Staunton play the magnificent Follies in this dazzling new

The tale of Young Marx

BROADCAST live from The Bridge Theatre, London, the National Theatre production of Young Marx is directed by Nicholas Hytner and reunites the creative team behind Broadway and West End hit comedy One Man, Two Guvnors.

Rory Kinnear (The Threepenny Opera, Penny Dreadful, Othello) is Marx and Oliver Chris (Twelfth Night, Green Wing) is Engels, in this new comedy written by Richard Bean and Clive Coleman.

1850, and Europe's most feared terrorist is hiding in Dean Street, Soho. Broke and restless, the thirty-two-year-old revolutionary is a frothing combination of intellectual brilliance, invective, satiric wit, and child-like emotional illiteracy. Creditors, spies, rival revolutionary factions and prospective seducers of his beautiful wife all circle like vultures.

His writing blocked, his marriage dying, his friend Engels in despair at his wasted genius, his only hope is a job on the railway.

But there's still no one in the capital who can show you a better night on the town than Karl Heinrich Marx.

The show will be screened at the Gateway, Seaton, on Thursday, December 7th at 7pm (doors 6.30pm). Ticket are £12.50 in advance, or £15.00 on the door (if available). For more details or to book call 01297 625699 or website www.thegatewayseaton.co.uk.

production. Featuring a cast of 37 and an orchestra of 21, it's directed by Dominic Cooke (Ma Rainey's Black Bottom).

Winner of Academy, Tony, Grammy and Olivier Awards, Sondheim's previous work at the NT includes A Little Night Music, Sweeney Todd and Sunday in the Park with George.

This production runs without an interval. This is true to the spirit of how Sondheim intended the piece to be performed.

The performance will be screened at the Gateway, Seaton on Thursday, November 7pm (doors 6.30pm). Ticket are £12.50 in advance, or £15.00 on the door (if available). For more details or to book call 01297 625699 or website www.thegatewayseaton.co.uk.

The Dogs are back in town

BACK BY demand, the amazing Riviera Dogs play again this year for the Gateway's Christmas Party.

The dance floor was packed from start to end. If you came to the last gig you will know what a night we had. If you haven't seen them yet, then get ready and give yourselves a treat.

Now the 80s and 90s were responsible for some truly awful stuff. Neon. Shoulder pads. Mullets.

But despite the questionable fashion choices and horrendous hair you have to admit that were some great tunes and memorable movies. Riviera Dogs are a five-piece band based in South West England delivering a polished set of quality music from the decades that taste forgot.

Members of the Riviera Dogs have performed in some of the most popular and longest running bands in the area but wanted to do something different; to play the music that they loved in their teens, to tackle some more difficult stuff, and to have a good time. Not the easy ones, not the obvious ones, but the ones that will make you go 'oh, I remember this', and will probably lead to gyrating of the trousers and possibly full blown dad dancing.

Riviera Dogs play at the Gateway, Seaton on Saturday, December 2nd at 8pm (doors 7.30pm). Tickets are £13 in advance or £16 on the door (if available). There will be limited seating, and a licensed bar will be available.

For more details or to book tickets call 01297 625699 or visit the website at www.thegatewayseaton.co.uk

Variety is back and it's Slightly Fat

SLIGHTLY Fat Features are a rabble rousing troupe of seven extraordinarily talented gentlemen who proudly pioneer Variety, giving this keystone of Great British entertainment a gloriously refreshing makeover for the 21st century. They will be bringing their unique form of entertainment to Dorchester on Saturday, November 25th at 8pm.

They have won multiple awards for their highly original, chaotic and bizarre cabarets. The timeless shows that they create are stuffed to the seams with astonishing physical skills, orchestrated mayhem and lots of laughs - perfect for a wide ranging audience.

Hard to describe until you witness it live, a genre of live theatre that is rarely seen. Family friendly but not a kids show, hilarious comedy but not a late night adult cabaret. Has to be seen live to be truly understood!

Tickets are £12 full price, £10 for Members of Dorchester Arts, under-18s or those on low income or £35 for a family ticket (max. 2 adults) and are available from the Dorchester Arts box office on 01305 266926, in person at the Corn Exchange (weekdays 10am - 4pm) or via www.dorchesterarts.org.uk. Members of Live for 5 aged 14 - 25 can buy tickets for £5 (see Dorchester Arts website for details).

The key to finding your perfect home

Clean up when selling your home

WITH the long winter evenings drawing out and the warmer weather on its way, now is often the time of year people start to consider moving house. But before you start searching for your next potential dream home you should first turn your attention to your own property.

We've all seen the TV shows that promise to boost your house value by thousands just by cleaning out the spare room or adding a lick of magnolia paint. However according to estate agent Your Move there is something to be said for a pre-sale spring clean.

Managing director of Your Move David Newnes says: "You might want to start with a spring clean just making a few basic changes to the presentation of your home to a potential buyer can make a world of difference to your house sale. There's usually no need for any major changes, just a commonsense approach."

According to Newnes, the kitchen and bathroom are the two rooms most likely to influence a sale, so pay particular attention to these. "Uncluttered worktops give a better impression and make a kitchen look bigger and don't forget to check all your kitchen cupboard doors are hanging straight and close properly and if necessary, take time to repair them," he says.

There's no need for expensive repair or building work. Most problems can be resolved by a trip to your local DIY store and a bit of common sense. "In the bathroom make sure the grouting between any tiles is cleaned using special grout cleaners available from most DIY stores, make sure that freshly washed, sweet smelling towels are hung neatly and that new bars of soap are on show instead of old ones," Newnes adds.

The idea is that your kitchen and bathroom look and smell clean, hygienic and tidy. An unclean toilet or dirty kitchen surfaces are unlikely to attract your buyer back for a second viewing. "Generally, cleanliness and tidiness can make a huge impression, so make sure all rooms are dusted and vacuumed and any cushions plumped up and curtains made to hang neatly. Don't forget to repair any tears to wallpaper and spend a little time repainting chipped or marked paintwork," he says.

It's not just inside that needs to look inviting: the first thing your buyer will see is the outside of your house. "Remember the exterior of the house," says Newnes. "Kerbside appeal is vital to get potential buyers through the door. A neat garden, clean windows, and a clean and tidy front door with a bell that works are all simple things that present a well maintained image. "Finally ensure you know specific details about the house, for example mention any relevant guarantees such as damp proof courses or double glazing. And what about the heating and water systems? If you have low fuels bills, have some handy to demonstrate this. It's definitely a selling point."

If all else fails, bake some bread or put a fresh pot of coffee on, advises Newnes. "It is usually the simplest and cheapest jobs that can have the most influence over the final sale. A vase of flowers or the smell of freshly brewed coffee doesn't cost the earth but can make a very positive impression."

Make a success of DIY design

Stylish interiors come through using the right amount of furniture for the space

HOME makeover programmes have inspired millions of people to become a little more creative with their interiors. You can now choose from endless paint shades, rolls of designer wallpapers, floor coverings, furniture styles and accessories. It is piecing them all together that is the hard bit.

While choice is always good, too much choice can make it difficult to get things right first time. Coordinating interiors doesn't necessarily mean matching everything, but there does need to be a sense of unity within every aspect of a room. Interior designers make this look easy, but most people find out the hard way that it can be anything but easy to get it right.

Whether you want to create a romantic master bedroom, welcoming guest room, cosy lounge or a functional family room, redesigning an interior space requires thought and attention to detail.

You, like any interior designer, should have the aim of making the room both functional and stylish. While working around your family's needs and interests may be difficult, it is essential if you want to have a room that is usable and can take what your family has to throw at it.

Take a good look at the space you have available: if the room is small, don't try to cram too much into it. Less is usually more when it comes to the amount of furniture in a room. Using the right amount of furniture and furniture in the correct proportions for the room will use the space available more efficiently and make the room feel more spacious. If the room is large, don't necessarily line-up all the furniture along the walls, which can lead to a boring layout and a waste of space. Consider dividing up a large room into smaller functional spaces using room dividers like screens and open bookcases.

Before you start, think about budget. This is always an interior designer's first consideration and will help them decide all aspects of the project. It's no good splashing out on designer wallpaper costing £45 a roll if you're going to have to skimp and scrape for everything else in the room. However, it will pay off to have one splurge item to set everything off, if you can afford to spend a decent amount on the basics.

Once you figure out how the room will be used, what space is available and how much money you have for the transformation, it's time to take inspiration from the experts. Create a file of magazine clippings of the styles, colours and accessories you would like to use in your home. When you have a good collection of clippings, you will have a clearer mind of what you want to create and what does and doesn't work together.

When it comes to actually decorating, if you can't do the job properly yourself, ask someone nicely to help or pay a professional if you have to. Nothing is worse than a job half done badly, especially if you've paid £45 for a roll of wallpaper.

Manual labour: New gearbox broadens Volkswagen Amarok appeal

VOLKSWAGEN Commercial Vehicles has broadened the appeal of its Amarok pick-up, introducing a manual gearbox option to the range in combination with the 204 PS engine. This reduces the entry price of the range by over £650 to £25,600 (basic RRP exc VAT and OTR), and so broadens the appeal of the popular pick-up to a wider audience.

Until now, the Amarok has been available with an eight-speed automatic gearbox and permanent 4MOTION four-wheel drive. The new model, available in Trendline trim, combines a six-speed manual gearbox and at the touch of a button, selectable all-wheel drive, with a drive system that features standard rear-wheel drive and, when required, engages the front axle. Thanks to the manual gearbox, an additional off-road gear reduction function permits extreme crawling pace, helpful when navigating complicated passages off-road and scaling particularly steep inclines of up to 100 per cent (slope angle of 45°).

The new 3.0-litre V6 engine produces its maximum power of 204 PS between 3,000 and 4,500 rpm, and maximum torque of 500 Nm between 1,250 and 2,750 rpm. It has a combined fuel economy of 32.5 mpg and CO2 emissions of 229 g/km. The zero to 62 mph sprint takes just 8.4 seconds – faster than its automatic counterpart at 9.1 – and it has a top speed of 119 mph (vs 117 for the auto).

Weight-wise, the manual 204 PS Amarok has a GVW of 3,200 kg, braked trailer weight of 3,000 kg, and a payload of 1,050 kg.

The latest version of the Amarok went on sale in the UK in December 2016. It now has a refreshed external look, a new 3.0-litre V6 TDI engine, an all-new interior and the latest in in-car infotainment systems and technology. In addition to the new manual 204 PS version, a 163 PS manual Amarok is due to join the range early next year.

The new manual version is available to order from Volkswagen Van Centres now, with first customer deliveries expected in February 2018.

For more information on Volkswagen Commercial Vehicles' award-winning range of products and services, visit www.volkswagen-vans.co.uk.

Prices announced for the Jeep® Compass

PRICING and specification for the all-new Jeep® Compass have been announced by Fiat Chrysler Automobiles UK, ahead of the stunning new SUV's arrival here in February 2018.

With a starting price of just £22,995 OTR for the 1.6 MultiJet 120 MTX FWD the new car represents outstanding value for money.

The all-new Jeep® Compass offers an unmatched combination of attributes including contemporary but authentic Jeep design, an array of advanced user-friendly connectivity and safety technologies, excellent on-road driving dynamics, open-air freedom and legendary, best in class, 4x4 off-road capability.

The new vehicle represents a key addition to the Jeep line-up, allowing the brand to tackle the important and growing compact SUV segment, that is expected to grow by almost 20 percent to 7.5 million in 2020. In Europe alone, this segment amounts to more than 1.6 million and is expected to achieve more than two million units by 2020.

In the UK, the Compass range is powered by two petrol and three diesel engines. The petrol engine offering includes a 1.4-litre MultiAir II Turbo engine with Stop&Start delivering 140 horsepower at 5,000 rpm and 230 Nm of torque at 1,750 rpm in combination with the six-speed manual gearbox and 4x2 configuration, and the 1.4-litre MultiAir II Turbo engine producing 170 horsepower at 5,500 rpm and torque of 250 Nm at 2,500 rpm, paired to the nine-speed automatic transmission and 4x4 configuration.

The diesel engine range comprises the efficient 1.6-litre MultiJet II with Stop&Start delivering 120 horsepower at 3,750 rpm and 320 Nm of torque at 1,750 rpm, paired to the six-speed manual gearbox and 4x2 configuration, and the 2.0-litre MultiJet II with Stop&Start delivering 140 horsepower at 3,750 rpm, with the six-speed manual transmission, producing 350 Nm of torque at 1,750 rpm and come with the 4x4 configuration.

A higher output version of the 2.0-litre MultiJet II with Stop&Start – delivering 170 horsepower in combination with the nine-speed automatic transmission and 4x4 configuration (including the Trailhawk specific low range mode) – completes the diesel offering available on the all-new Compass.

Four equipment levels of Jeep® Compass are offered in the UK: Sport, Longitude, Limited and Trailhawk*. The Sport version's standard equipment includes 16-inch alloy wheels, LED tail lights, leather steering wheel with audio controls, air conditioning, cruise control, forward collision warning and 60/40 rear seat split.

Football round-up

Terras wear down tenacious Tivvy

WEYMOUTH 2 TIVERTON TOWN 0
Evo-Stik South Premier - att: 517

FOR the second game in four days Weymouth had to be patient before breaking down their opponents; this time 73 minutes, before a sublime strike from Josh Carmichael broke Tiverton's resistance.

Toby Down's header 10 minutes later sealed the points that were anything but safe against a Tivvy side that made it an entertaining game with neither side giving any quarter.

A bright start for the hosts saw new loan signing Charlie Seaman linking down the right side, but it was Tivvy's Levi Landricombe with a shot just wide with the first effort on goal.

Ben Thomson's strong run from Carmichael's pass resulted in a reverse ball to put Addulai Baggi in on goal but his shot was parried by keeper Martin Rice, whilst at the other end Harry Baker, having extricated himself from three opponents, then shot straight at Rice.

A foul on Charlie Davis on 27 minutes saw the instigator Scott Rogers booked along with colleague Ollie Knowles and Owen Howe in the fracas that followed.

The second half proved as feisty with Baker claiming he was pulled back inside the penalty area, and Ashley Wells needing treatment after a hard but fair tackle which later saw him replaced by Down.

The antagonism continued amid passages of good play from both sides and Baker was yellow carded for a foul on Hurst.

Tiverton almost broke the deadlock on 64 minutes when Travers failed to hold Tom Bath's header and it slipped through his fingers just passed the far post.

Just when it looked like the Terras were going to settle for a point, Carmichael won the ball 35-yards from goal before letting fly with a grass cutter that zipped just inside the post.

Buoyed by the goal, Baker struck a 30-yard effort that had Rice diving to smother, but on 83 minutes Down made the game safe with a thumping near post header from Josh Wakefield's corner.

Baker's petulance saw him sent off when he received a second yellow card for kicking the ball into the crowd, and in the final minutes Jake McCarthy denied Tiverton a consolation when he flung himself to block Howe's goalbound shot after Travers had parried.

Speaking to View Sport manager Mark Molesley said: "It was typical Southern League blood and thunder; a tough game. We needed to be strong, but we did well to keep our cool, I'm delighted that the boys stood up to the demands of that. I thought we were very professional and did enough to take all three points."

Despite being sent off for two yellow cards, the Terras boss was delighted with Baker's contribution.

"He'll learn from that. He was like a little dog, he's just kept running and harrying.

On Carmichael's goal he said: "I don't think people realise the technique he's got, he set his shot off out wide and the keeper thought it going wide but at the last moment it curls in. Not many people can strike a ball like that, it was a moment of class that got our noses in front."

Magpies beaten by late strikes

FROME TOWN 3 DORCHESTER TOWN 1
EvoStik South Premier - att: 234

FOR the second game running Dorchester conceded two late goals that condemned them to defeat.

After being dumped out of the FA Trophy by Heybridge Swifts with two goals in the last seven minutes, the Magpies got themselves back in the game before the break having conceded an early goal.

Jake Jackson gave the Robins the lead in the 12th minute when he outpaced the Dorchester defence before rounding Chris Weale and tuck the ball home from a narrow angle.

The Magpies responded with Aaron Rodriquez going close and Robins' keeper Kyle Phillips forcing Phil Ormrod wide to the point his shot missed the target.

But they equalised on 38 minutes when a well worked corner saw Mo Baghdadi fire under Phillips from the edge of the box.

In a fairly physical second half, short of goal opportunities, it appeared that Dorchester might leave with a point. However, on 79 minutes, man of the match Jon Davies fired past Weale edge of the box.

Almost immediately they might have equalised but Billy Lowes' shot cleared the bar, before Jackson sealed the points, and a league double, with a neat finish.

Blues fall to Gleeson

HAMWORTHY UTD 1 PORTLAND UTD 0
Sydenhams Wessex Prem - att: 74

FORMER Dorchester Town midfielder Jamie Gleeson's goal on the hour mark saw Hamworthy United edge victory to claim the double over Portland United last Tuesday.

Blues boss Simon Browne was disappointed that his side did not leave the County Ground with at least a point: "We played very well, on any other day we would be walking away not just with one point but all three. I thought we were the better side."

Portland started well and had a couple opportunities in the first 10 minutes, but as the half progressed the game became a battle for midfield supremacy, although Jamie Beasley caused a lot of problems down the left and almost gave them the lead on the cusp of half time; his 25 yard shot clipping the post.

Although the Blues created more chances in the second half they failed to capitalise, whilst Gleeson struck the winning goal for the Hammers when he volleyed home from 20 yards.

Storm calmed by Coasters power

Dorset Storm 36
Jurassic Coasters 88

GAME day for the under 16s South West National League teams and the unbeaten Coasters made the trip to Poole for the local derby.

The Coasters were the first on the board with two points from Giuseppe Landolfi closely followed by another two from Louis Weaver.

Storm weren't going to be taken likely as they got their own points on the board and drawing a foul convert two more to take an early lead.

This seemed to spur the visitors on as they went on a 12 point spree with baskets from Owen Leivers, Eoin Goring, Bradley Morgan and Landolfi.

But the hosts found their form again finishing the quarter strongly and keeping the score to within six.

Into the second quarter and the Coasters soon dominated increasing their lead to 10 with Weaver and Landolfi hitting the mark before Leivers was fouled going up to the ring.

In the ninth minute of the quarter the Coasters had reached team fouls and gave away four free throws. Fortunately for the Coasters, Storm couldn't make the most of them.

Baskets from Morgan and Landolfi finished off the quarter as the visitors went into the break with a healthy 47-28 lead.

The third quarter saw the coasters dominate at both ends with Luca Trevett leading the defensive duties as the Coasters only allowed Storm one basket in the entire quarter. Kieron Scott added to the baskets tally of 15 points before the hosts scored.

The final basket of the quarter saw Will Sherlock take the visitors to an imposing 40-point lead.

The domination contin-

Browne, rueing the missed chances said: "Ultimately the game is about who scores the most goals, so all our possession counted for very little in the end."

DORSET LEAGUES

Premier League
BALTI Sports had a day to forget as four players took turns in the sin-bin in a 4-1 defeat at Westlands.

Sammy Nicholls netted for the Weymouth side. Nicholls was then one of the quartet, that included Danny Andrews, Liam Taylor and skipper Phil Anderson, who spent a 10-men minute cooling off period on the sideline.

Meanwhile, Dorchester Sports leapt up to top spot with a 4-2 win at Mere Town.

Sports were 3-0 up after half an hour through Richa Beasley, and a Will Turland double.

But Mere pulled one back immediately after Dorch had Tony Frost red-carded and reduced the arrears top 3-2 just before the hour.

However, the visitors rallied and James Symes netted near the end to clinch the win.

Senior Division

CHICKERELL UTD ended Corfe Castle Castle's unbeaten run coming out 2-0 winners with from Steve Welch and Matt Stickland.

Dorchester Sports Res and Wincanton shared the points drawing 2-2 with Mitch Bouwman on the scoresheet for Dorch.

Division One

PORTLAND Utd A won 4-2 at Canford Utd, meanwhile, Tom Cherry, Riley Greenwood and Jordan Sharp netted for Weymouth FC Colts as they won 3-2 at home against Blandford Res.

Division Two

DOM Allen scored both goals for Wimborne Phoenix as they won 2-0 at home to Chickerell Res.

Second placed Sturminster Marshall won 3-2 at Portesham Utd despite a double from Aaron Ryan.

Elsewhere, Jordan Butler scored a hat-trick as Portland Town won 6-2 at Okeford. Colin Upfold, Danny Clifford and sub Lewis Dolan scored the others for the visitors.

Division Three

A BRACE for Jack Phelps was enough for Donhead to take all three points at home against Portland Town Reserves winning 2-0.

Division Four

CHARLIE Clarke and an OG helped Puddletown to a 2-2 draw at Piddlehinton.

Shillingstone hammered Portesham Utd Res 10-1. Marcus Simpson scored the consolation as Redlands went down 3-1 at home against Tisbury Reserves.

Crossways Spitfires defeated Portland Town A 4-1 with Paul Cole netting the visitors' consolation.

Cup final on horizon

Puddletown 34
East Dorset 5

Dorset & Wilts 1st XV Plate Semi-Final
EAST Dorset returned to Greenfields intent on avenging last week's 30-0 league whitewash, but found the high flying Villagers in no mood to surrender their eight game unbeaten run writes Geoff Purver.

Puddletown took control of the midfield from the start, soaking up the visitors' early pressure and repeatedly turning defence into attack.

The home side drew first blood after 15 minutes with outside centre Matt Watts cutting through to score. Captain Sam Bailey missed the conversion but made amends five minute later adding three points from a penalty.

Pearce Mercer was next on the score-sheet, the big number eight simply shrugging off the tackles as he powered to the line, Bailey duly converted. Then just before half-time Watts turned provider, spinning out of a tackle to make a 40 metre break before spotting Ryan Snook running the outside line.

Taking the short pass the full-back sprinted clear to dot down under the posts with Bailey adding the extras for a 22-0 half time lead.

East Dorset stepped up a gear after the break and, undaunted by prop Jez Beale's unconverted try adding to the home side's tally, and their relentless pressure eventually breached an otherwise resolute defence to fashion a deserved score of their own.

But The Villagers had the final say in a second half contested mainly in midfield when, with 10 minutes to go, Mercer broke off the back of a set-piece to score his second try of the game. Bailey converted to take his tally with the boot to nine points.

Puddletown will now face new boys AMESBURY in the final on December 2nd, but before that, return to league action with a visit to second placed SHERBORNE 2nds on Saturday.

Hawks grab last minute equaliser

Plymouth Marjon C 1
 West Dorset Hawks 1
Southern 2

WEST Dorset's endeavours were rewarded in their inaugural meeting against Plymouth Marjon C with an equaliser with almost the last strike of the game.

The Hawks gave first team debuts to striker Richard Wilson and Nick Halsey who played at right back allowing stand-in captain Julian May to move to midfield to cover unavailable skipper Rick Steele.

Unused to the extra bounce generated from the pitch surface, West Dorset took time to settle.

They fell behind following a short corner, Jim Bowditch getting his stick to the thunderous shot but could only deflect the ball high into the net.

The Hawks finally got to grips with the pitch, and just before the interval Alex Davies' shot looked destined for the top corner but the home keeper turned it over the bar and another Davies strike, this time following a short corner, struck the post.

Wilson then showed his potential crossing to the far post where Russell Coombs struck the crossbar with a diving full length effort.

With the Hawks defence holding firm, up front they almost scored again when Davies' effort was kept out by the toe of the keeper's boot.

It looked like the Hawks would travel back to Dorset without reward for a sterling performance, but with the last move of the match they were awarded another short corner and Davies slammed home the equaliser.

May told View Sport: "It was a great team effort and would have been hard had we not got anything out of the game."

In naming Richard Puzey as his player of the match he added: "It's good to see the new players stepping up; they both did very well."

Kellas goal spree continues

WEST DORSET A 3
 BRIDGWATER C 2

goal spree with a hat trick as he helped the Hawks secure a win in an entertaining game against a very well organised Bridgwater C.

Their mix of youth and experience saw off the visitors who were not fazed by going behind when Kellas, who scored four the previous week, continued his fine scoring run with a goal on 15 minutes.

The visitors then scored two quick goals to take the lead before half time, both coming from rebounds after keeper Alex Drew had made the initial save.

The second half started well for West Dorset and their early pressure was rewarded as Kellas slotted home his second.

Bridgwater's midfield attack was relentless at times, but a man of the match performance from Giles Maltby stopped every threat on the Hawks goal.

The balance of play shifted back and forth for the remainder of the game, but it was the Hawks that came out victorious as Kellas completed his hat trick to clinch the win.

Beviss' big scoring birdie clinches win

LYME REGIS with Richard Jackman ROUND Two of the WINTER LEAGUE produced some keen but lower than average scoring, perhaps in anticipation of the improving of the bunkers that began the following day.

Division One was led to Pete Beviss as his 35 points gave him top spot, his brilliant birdie four points on the 14th heralding a steady, secure run in.

David Lock's birdie on the last ensured second spot with 34 points, one better than David Riches who finished 3rd.

Division Two produced a deserved win for Bob Shepherd as he started off brilliantly with three pointers on four of the first five holes in his 35 points. Terry Peardon's solid back nine 19 secured 2nd place on countback from Les Bound (both 34).

The LADIES STABLEFORD Division One was won by Rosie Jackman whose two birdies in three holes helped in a back nine 21 in her 38 point winning score.

Judith Page and Di Harris both scored 34, but Page took silver on countback.

Division Two was closer, as Ros Clemmans put together a good steady front nine score in her 34 points one better than Kate Helm, whose four points on the fourth hole helped her to 33, one ahead of Lizzie Linnert in 3rd.

BRIDPORT with Peter Crowter

THIRTY-TWO men started out on Sunday for the Daily Mail FourSome Qualifier.

Coming in first was the team of Ian Thacker (15) & Nathan Dunford (18) with 36 points. After count-back Martin Drennon (14) & Dave Franks (10) took the runner-up spot with 35 and in third place were Dave Howat (18) & Larwence Turner (21) also with 35.

The veterans Thursday competition was a three-man team Bowmaker and 54 members took part on a fine morning. Eighty-six points was the winning score and this was carded by Dave Howat (18), Brian Osborne (22) & David Ingleson (23). Coming second with 84 were Brian Walsh (17), Mike McGrady (17) & Roy Matheson (21). Third place went to Brian Austin (24), Peter Mowat (16) & Terry Garrett (28) with 83.

Ladies' Section by Lyn Jessop

A DOZEN ladies competed for the December stableford last Tuesday. Jane Dowling won with 25 points beating Di Neal on countback. Sally Woolmington was third with 21.

Multiple success for magnificent Morris

TWELVE months ago Gary Morris claimed victory in the Woolbridge Motor Club four-wheel-drive championship, but the recent season has seen the Bridport driver claim more successes throughout the many disciplines catered for by the club.

Morris left the club's awards presentation at Frampton Village Hall with the 50th Anniversary Trophy for winning the RTV (road-going) division of the four-wheel-drive championship, and the prestigious Victor Ludorum Trophy for scoring the most points across all of the club's activities. In addition, he claiming second overall in the Silver League Car Trials Championship and received a special award from club President Colin Pook for actions above and beyond the norm. Multiple successes were also achieved by Sherborne's Mark Hoppé who finished third in the Victor Ludorum series, in addition to claiming the Field Trophy for winning the car trails championship.

The previous British Car Trials champion also collected the Jonathan Mears Memorial Trophy for winning the club's autotest championship and three trophies for overall wins in individual trials.

In the four-wheel-drive events Simon Crook (Dorchester) received the Hogcliff Trophy as the victor in the CCV (modified) division, whilst John Kirby (Maiden Newton) collected the Mitsubishi Trophy as the winner of both the RTV and CCV classes.

He also claimed third place in the cars trials championship, second in the Victor Ludorum, as well as the Autotechnic Trophy for an outright win in a car trial.

More awards were to return to the Kirby household with John's daughter Sarah winning the award for the Best Performance by a Young Driver in four-wheel-drive events in addition to the Junior Victor Ludorum for drivers under 23 years of age.

The family had further accolades when Sharon Kirby was awarded the Committee Cup (awarded for marshalling and/or officiating on the most occasions). This award was shared with Tim and Jackie Fry from Wareham.

Father and son duo Peter and Richard Turner claimed the victory for driver and navigator in the Navigational Challenge with Charlotte Ryall receiving the Rod Purkiss Trophy for the most deserving navigator.

One of the most well supported championships within the south Dorset Club was that for speed hill climbing. Stephen Wareham (Bere Regis) took fourth place in his Austin Mini whilst Andrew Forsyth took the runner-up position in his OMS single-seater racer.

The premier award, The Silver Jubilee Trophy went to South Pether-ton's Simon Neve who took the top spot driving his Mitsubishi Lancer road car whilst he rebuilt the engine of his more rapid and specialised Evo RS.

First final appearance must wait

Oakmedians 65 Bridport 10

Dorset & Wilts Vase semi final BRIDPORT travelled to Merrick Park, Bournemouth on Saturday looking to get through to the Cup Final for the first time, but expecting a tough time against a side lying second in the Dorset & Wilts Division One (S) table writes Guy Livingston.

Their fears were realised when a strong second half performance from the home team blew them away.

The first 10 minutes were very even until from a breakdown on the Blues 22, Oakmedians spun the ball out to their winger who was quickly over the line for the first try which they failed to convert.

It was not long before a similar move was made on the opposite side of the pitch as the hosts scored another unconverted try.

Bridport then gained a scrum down in the opposition half and a quick ball from Lavis to Mitch Waters who offloaded to Freddy Woolner who stormed through for a try under the posts which he then converted to take the score to 10-7.

It was not long after this that a similar penalty was awarded in the Blues half and Oakmedians took full advantage to score a converted try.

Bridport then got into a good attacking position on the Oaks line, but despite numerous drives, great defence stopped them getting over the line, Oaks ultimately infringing going over the top, and Richard Layzell added the three points.

In the closing minutes of the first half Bridport conceded a penalty from which the Oaks scored a converted try, going in at half time 24-10 in front.

The second half started with a revitalised Blues who obviously felt that they could still get back into the game putting good pressure on the Oaks defence.

However, they were unable to get the all important first score and the Oaks pulled away with two scores in as many minutes.

This was the turning point which broke Bridport spirits and the Oaks, with a younger and fitter side, ran away with the game adding a further unanswered 31 points.

The Blues have to visit the Oaks again next Saturday in the league and will have to take some of the positives from this game.

With Mike Pibworth back, he and Daragh McLoughlin held their own in the line outs and there was parity at the scrum with Ollie Lavis having a solid game at scum half, but hav-again had another excellent kicking game to clear the Blues lines.

Controversy mars fine Reserves display

Holt Utd 3 Bridport Reserves 1

Dorset Premier Division DESPITE this defeat against title contenders Holt United, Bridport manager Shaun Annetts was pleased with his team's performance.

The former Beaminster manager has been critical of his side's defending in recent weeks particularly through individual errors, and has been trying to instil some discipline.

Although they conceded three, Annetts accepted that the first two were genuine pieces of skill, whilst the third resulted from the referee accepting the linesman's offside decision and then changing his mind.

The Bees boss said: "I thought we gave a very good account of ourselves and were the better side in the first half. We defended so much better."

"We went in 0-0 at half time, and had them rattled, they were arguing with themselves and the referee.

However, we always knew that they were a decent side, and unfortunately there was one very quick player with exceptional skills that won the game for them."

Annetts was pleased to have Billy Fleet back between the sticks, and also gave PL debuts to Josh Hunter and sub Dylan Riley.

However, they were undone by two pieces of skill from Nathan Saxby within five minutes; the first a rasping shot that gave Fleet no chance, before turning the outstanding Ryan Hayter and firing home low.

And with 15 minutes left the Bees were dealt a body blow from a strange decision by referee Craig Bourton. Bridport were penalised for a foul 25 yards from goal from which the referee allowed Holt to take quickly.

Ryan Gall stepped up quickly leaving a Holt player who thumped the ball into the net offside.

The referee initially upheld the decision but, after protests from the home side, spoke with the assistant and then allowed the goal.

Annetts was astounded: "I don't know how he can make that call!"

This made the task harder, but the Bees were rewarded three minutes later when Riley Weedon picked the ball up on the angle of the area and curled a superb shot beyond the keeper into the far corner.

There was more controversy 10 minutes from time when a Holt player was sent off for head butting Nick Paull, splitting the bridge of his nose.

Paull, agitated by the offence, was then also dismissed for "aggressive attitude", something Annetts has asked the club to appeal.

Lowden break Bere's resistance BRIDPORT THIRDS 2 BERE REGIS 0

Dorset Division Three BRIDPORT Thirds continued their unblemished league record when they entertained a Bere Regis side whose league position doesn't do them justice.

Starting with possibly the strongest squad they'd put out this term, the Bees played the visitors off the park and if they had been sharper up front would have been out of sight by half time.

As it was they found themselves level at the break, and this was only thanks to a brilliant save from Jordan Scadding in the home goal who palmed away a powerful shot just before the break.

The second half saw the home side look sharper in attack with Rhys Hughes-Williams going close on several occasions.

They finally opened their account Callan Lowden volleyed home James Pitchers's cross.

Bridport soon found themselves further in front. The visiting keeper having made a brilliant save, couldn't hold the ball and Ali Kamara tapped the rebound home.

Rivals beaten Great start to season for Colfox

BRIDPORT Bowls Club's Ladies A team picked up six points in the County League with a 41-37 win over BOURNEMOUTH, one of their main rivals for the title.

Francis Hewett, Ann Turtell, Pat Cornick & Margaret Clapp finished 1,3,3 to win 24-19 to clinch victory, as Pamela Daters, Margaret Pestelle, Sue Walsh & Annie Legg lost 17-18.

Bridport's men had a tough weekend, comprehensively beaten on Saturday by DORCHESTER in the National Denny Plate Competition, and beaten on all four rinks in the Wessex League against MOONFLEET's second string.

In the County over 60s League, Bridport A took five points at home against Moonfleet A. Phil Hedges, Paul Hallett & Mike Fletcher romped home 31-6, with Barry Mapson, Mel Griffiths & Chris Everest drawing 14-14.

In Bridport's four-rink mixed friendly against the NOMADS, Sylvia and Mike Fletcher, Harry Gray & Barry Driscoll were top rink, winning 22-12.

Chris Thorne, Tracy Marley, Robin Pither & Chas Clarke also won 18-14.

Nomads won on the other two rinks as Nicky Driscoll, David Jenkin, John Davies & Mary Hansford dropped a five count on the last end to lose 17-22 and Brian Suffing, Sharon Heath, Brian Legg & Les Heath also went down, but Bridport still won 72-64 overall.

THE Sir John Colfox Academy showed they are going to be a force again in Round One of the English Schools Cross Country Cup held at Bishop Wordsworth School, Salisbury, with both the Inter and Junior Boys teams qualifying for the Southern England Final.

In perfect conditions on a great course the Junior Girls started the day off finishing fourth overall, just seven points off a qualifying in third place. Lea Devecery was the first Colfox girl home in 7th, followed by Cora O'Brien, Lucy Selway, Zara English, Amelia Burt and Jess Barbe Baker.

In the Junior Boys raced, Colfox finished 2nd, with Owen Pitcher leading the way with a superb individual second place finish. He was followed by Oliver Forsee, Oakley Winters-O'Brien, Sam Devecery, Bailey Huxter and Oliver Jones.

GREAT START: The Junior Boys team who have qualified for the next round

The Inter Girls finished fifth with four very strong teams ahead of them. Maddy Herbert was the first Colfox girl home in fourth, with Ellen Pearce, May Cornwell, Flick Ackerman, Mia Williams and Daisy Parsons making up the other places.

The Inter Boys matched the younger team by also finishing in second. Gus Johnson led Colfox home, with Fin Cauldwell, Harry Burwood, Mannie Wellman, Zakjohn Ousley and Jake Childs filling the other places.

The Inter and Junior Boys now progress to the Southern England Final at Leweston School in Sherborne where both teams will have a good chance of progressing into the national final.

Hi Q go two clear by Steph Upson FOUR teams from Division One were in action last week. HNC 3Ts were up against HNC Hot Shots.

Megan Gooding played well for 3Ts while Rebecca Coop was the Shots' player of the match and helped to lead them to a 59-25 win.

Flamingos and Hi Q met in a highly anticipated match. The final result wasn't as close as it might have been expected, with Hi Q securing a 35-20 win despite the best efforts of Flamingos' Sonia York.

Bev Paris' brilliant play for Hi Q led to her being awarded player of the match for the winners.

In Division Two, Beer Blazers were missing three regulars and were without subs for the match against Tornados.

However, this did not deter them and they managed to win their fifth game in a row, 25-8.

Ash Taylor, for Blazers, received the POTM accolad, whilst Tornados' Katherine Paniewicz scooped the award for Tornados.

There was a close encounter between JD Tyres and Otter Valley with only six goals between them at the final whistle. Lisa Bevan assisted JD to a 20-14 victory, while Becca Rowe worked hard for Otter Valley.

HNC Honeyz showed some fierce attacking and fine defending moments, particularly from Louise Welch against Signs South West, but it wasn't enough to contend with the more experienced team as the Signs went on to win 38-15 with skipper Faye Hawkins leading from the front and being awarded POTM.

Pixies managed to grab a 27-19 win against Cranbrook Arrows but it wasn't all plain sailing with Cranbrook, led by Kirsty Crowe, refusing to give up, and securing a point for scoring more than half of Pixies' goals scored. Georgie Selley picked up the POTM for Pixies.

INSIDE: Puddletown through to Plate cup final Magpies dance to Thompson's tune

IT is still too early to say that Dorchester Town's 4-1 hammering of Kettering Town on Saturday will be sustained.

However, if you study the Magpies form since the former Yeovil boss Steve Thompson's arrival two months ago, things do appear to be heading in the right direction.

When he succeeded Craig Laird they had three points in eight games. Since he took over, going into Saturday's match the Magpies had amassed 13 points from 10 league games with just three defeats.

During this period Thompson and his assistant Trevor Senior have slowly transformed the club's fortunes, mainly with the squad they inherited.

Despite this remarkable turnaround, the Poppies who arrived at The Avenue having only lost one of their 15 league games were favourites to maintain the Evo-Stik Southern Premier League second spot behind Kings Lynn.

That was quickly dispelled as Billy Lowes and Sam Lanahan struck to give Dorchester a two goal lead in the first 15 minutes.

Stuart Broom

Reporter
 broom2006@btinternet.com

Despite Kettering pulling a goal back midway through the second half, David Jeerard scored immediately afterwards to restore the two goal advantage before Mo Baghdadi completed a comprehensive victory.

Thompson told View Sport: "It was a great result to boost our confidence. Obviously to beat Kettering 4-1 is an absolutely brilliant result."

Overcame early set-backs

"We were pleased with the way we started, despite having two setbacks in the early minutes replacing players with hamstring injuries."

Following the 3-1 defeat at Frome Town midweek, Thompson recalled Lowes and Jerrard in place of Aaron Rodriguez and Dom Panesar-Dower; the need for fresh legs being a factor.

"Both were ready and fresh; I think fresh legs come into it, and to a point Mo Baghdadi who only played 55 minutes at Frome produced a very good performance."

Asked about the team's performance since he took over he said: "We lost six of the first seven before I came, and since then we have only lost four. As I have said before, although some people think it's only gradual, 16 points from 11 games is quite an improvement."

However, he was quick to ensure that everyone does not get too excited.

"There's always plenty of work to do, and you can't get carried away and take anything for granted. The Kettering win was a great boost to the work we have been doing in training."

"As I have said before there is no way we are a good team yet, but we are working very hard, to improve the results which we have done, but it doesn't finish there."

This Saturday the Magpies travel to Merthyr Town who announced last Friday that 80 per cent of their squad had been released, and consequently, with a side comprising a number of academy players, they were thrashed 13-1 by Chesham United.

Thompson said: "We can't take anything for granted."
